Here is the next decade in prophecy: What incredible, previously unknown phenomenon, is fast approaching Earth from the depths of outer space? Has the existence of this miracle "thing" been confirmed by scientists? Will it be enough to save our troubled planet? How will it save us?

Diane Tessman has received two urgent transmissions on this subject, and has just received a third transmission which is both frightening and awe-inspiring. These transmissions come from Tibus and others of the higher realms known as Space/Time Intelligence. They plead with humankind to become highly aware of the coming God Cloud, and to survive not despite it but because of it.

Diane, one of the most highly regarded prophetic seers of our time, has also received other startling, urgent prophecies and messages for the coming decade. What are they specifically? How can you benefit? Is there a silver lining to the dark cloud which has settled over us?

Or do the prophecies tell of doomsday death and destruction? What specific catastrophes and upheavals are foreseen? Can you avoid them with pre-knowledge?

Now, join Diane and her guides Nikola Tesla and Tibus, as they embark on an incredible journey which will inspire, frighten, and ultimately give you hope as well as the answer to your survival in these tumultuous Change Times on Planet Earth.

In the Autumn of 1999, Tibus transmitted this mind-boggling message:

"GOD IS ON THE HORIZON!"

What is the definition of the "God Cloud?"

The God Cloud is a massive cosmic cloud composed of the purest, most pristine energy. It is traveling through space, behaving unlike other cosmic bodies and energies.

The subatomic molecules within this cloud of "star stuff" are molecules of the highest consciousness - God Consciousness.

This cloud of God Consciousness is headed for Earth, and has been documented by astronomers on Earth's northern horizon. Of course distances in outer space are vast but the direction and approach of this massive cosmic object, are clear. When it encompasses Earth, there will be a huge, instantaneous leap upward in the level of consciousness on Earth. A mass miracle!

This is a possible interpretation of what the God Cloud looks like as it travels through the cosmos. The astounding energy "strings" and "twirls" in the cloud are thought to be of every possible color and variation of color in the universe.

Consciousness itself travels on subatomic molecules. The consciousness which you possess, is "housed" on subatomic waves and strings (particles). The science of quantum physics has proven this.

On August 17, 1999, the New York Times ran an article which stated that astronomers have an unyielding mystery on their hands. This is something they have quietly observed and pondered for four years. It is a point of deep light in the northern sky which appears like to like nothing ever seen before.

The mystery object, states the article, has so far confounded astronomers because they cannot decipher the language of its light. Usually, by breaking down the spectrum of light into its component elements, and then charting the spikes and dips on a paragon, astronomers can identify and describe an object in space within ten minutes.

In this case, however, astronomers are finding that there is nothing familiar about the light spectrum. There are several "everests" representing emissions from the mystery object surrounded by lower peaks and broad valleys of heavy elements that blot out the true contours of the object's nature. "I've never seen a spectrum anything like this, and I take spectra for a living," said S. George Djorgovski, an astronomer with California's Institute of Technology and leader of the sky survey that detected the mystery object.

"The light doesn't vary, doesn't move, and doesn't erupt," Djorgovski said, reflecting the team's growing bewilderment.. At the June 1999 meeting of the American Astronomical Society in Chicago, Djorgovski issued a challenge to his colleagues to help solve the mystery.

With little evidence and less conviction, some astronomers speculate that the object is a quasar, one of the sources of tremendous energy usually at the farthest reaches of the universe where the enormous gravitational power of black holes presumably gobble up surrounding matter.

However, this object is not in the farthest reaches of the universe, it is visible by telescope in Earth's northern skies. It cannot be seen with the naked eye as yet, but its existence and location is documented.

If it is a quasar, it must be a rare kind beyond current understanding. But if it is not a quasar, scientists say, the most intriguing prospect is that the mystery object is announcing the existence of an entirely new cosmic phenomenon.

My spirit guide Tibus transmits: I come to you in love and light. The truth is, there are enormous implications to this mystery object! The powers-that-be have tried to smother knowledge of and information on this phenomenon. It is a phenomenon of great hope, even ultimate hope, and it threatens their power over the people of Earth.

This mysterious object in the northern skies, approaching Earth, conforms to no rules set down by science; it is in fact a pulsating ball of radiant Creator Energy. It has spirit; it has consciousness. Its energy is of the purest; highest frequency. It is therefore the actual Spirit of the Creator. God. It is, quite literally, the God Cloud.

Another pulsating, radiant ball of God Energy dwells in your soul. It is you.

Rejoice! Both you and the God Cloud are homeward bound.

You will unite. You will remain you, but you will be rejuvenated, enlightened, and renewed in an enhanced, beautiful new world.

We will transmit more information on this most important subject in the future.

At this point, Tibus ended transmission.

In his second transmission on The God Cloud, Tibus referred me to an article in the London Daily Telegraph of July 5th, 1995. The article states: "...energies have been measured that have shattered popular scientific belief. Something out there - no one knows what - is hurling high energy particles around the universe; in this case, the most energetic ever observed by scientists. Not even the power released by the most powerful exploding stars (novae), could account for them. Indeed, conventional theory says that such particles should not exist."

"These energies, known by science as cosmic rays, are normally measured in the range of millions of electron volts power. Since 1992 when this object was spotted, they have been forced to measure in the range of up to 320 billion-billion electron volts."

Tibus adds: Earth scientists do not fully realize it, but they have begun to measure energy emanations from what we call in spiritual terms, "The Great Cosmic Cauldron of Creation."

Sometimes these energies are hurled out as high energy particle beams (rays) at random, around the universe. But once in a while, individual particles form a cosmic cloud of cohesive energy. Then the direction of the universal journey is no longer random, but the particles of consciousness within the cloud form a Mind, and this Mind directs the direction, the intent, and the kind of journey which the Cloud will experience.

Not all clouds made of this 'star stuff' are composed of energy particles of the highest consciousness. This is rare. How fortunate that the cloud headed for Earth is of God Consciousness, right when Earth needs it most!

Of course, it is not a coincidence at all!

At this point, Tibus ended transmission again.

The third transmission on the coming arrival of the God Cloud was prompted by an Internet article from January 6, 2003, from Reuters International Press Service. The article is entitled, "Milky Way Galaxy's Black Hole Is Mean and Hungry," and is a report from the American Astronomical Society's Conference in Seattle. It reads:

"If there's anything meaner than a super massive black hole, it's a super massive black hole on a starvation diet. Such is the plight of the big black hole at the heart of the Milky Way Galaxy - the galaxy which contains Earth. Using the Chandra X-Ray Observatory, scientists have found that the black hole known as the Milky Way's Heart, is prone to numerous outbursts and occasional large explosions on an almost daily basis."

"Black holes are monstrous, matter-sucking drains in space whose pull is so strong that nothing, not even light, can escape. For that reason, no one has ever seen a black hole, but astronomers learn about them by watching what happens around them."

"Flares occur near the black hole's event horizon, the point of no return before matter falls into the hole. The cause of the flares is unknown, but the x-rays they emit are relatively weak, suggesting this is a starved black hole."

"Weighing 3 million times the mass of the sun, the hole has frequent snacks but rarely feasts, possibly because past explosions blew away much of the gas from the neighborhood."

"This black hole is not being fed a lot. It ought to be a million times brighter than it is," says Massachusetts Institute of Technology scientist Frederick Baganoff. Scientists agree that this black hole is refusing to eat and is rejecting most of the material flowing its way."

Amazing! Here is a black hole which rejects light, matter, and time itself, for some strange reason - as if it were a conscious, living being! Finicky, discriminating taste?

One thing I have learned in my twenty years of channeling Tibus and his Space/Dimensional friends, is that the world and, indeed the universe, are absolutely alive with living beings who are conscious and sentient. They are as huge as our star, Sol The Sun, or as tiny as the nature sprite who lives under the waterfall.

Tibus has also told me that tiny, microscopic viruses and bacteria have awareness and can be reached psychically. He explains that we could conquer all diseases caused by bacteria and viruses if we could truly accept this fact. A number of people have cured their cancer by attacking the cancer cells as if they were enemy soldiers; the cancer is attacked by "good soldiers" whom the individual envisions with his mind.

Tibus has also told me of the Goddess of the Volcano, the Spirit of the Mountain, and the Guardian of the Oceans. These are huge, powerful life forms who communicate through spirit - the universal spirit which we all share. Universal spirit is the communication network among all life forms.

Our Planet Earth is a living being as well. The rainforests are her lungs, the ozone layer is her immune system, oceans, rivers, and streams are her blood vessels. "Gaia" is the name of Mother Earth's living spirit.

Is the entire universe also teaming with life? This life may be in the form of small creatures on an alien planet or it may be in the form of the alien planet herself! Yes, planets are living beings, and so are quasars, nebula, black holes, and white holes. They have an awareness, however alien to you and me. They are entities.

And how could a black hole be a finicky eater? A picky consumer of energy?

I had to ask Tibus and his friends of Space/Time Intelligence about this; I was amazed when this subject linked into their previous news of the God Cloud which is approaching Earth.

In response to my questions, Tibus' colleague W'VORA sent the following transmission: Allow me to explain: For every black hole, there is a white hole. Black holes gobble up energy, matter, and even time itself. But white holes radiate outward - energy, matter, and time.

The energy, matter, and time, sucked in by a black hole, have to exit the black hole somewhere in the universe; this creative spewing out process is called a white hole. The energy, matter, and time which were sucked in, are now transformed and renewed.

Black holes are not bad and white holes are not automatically good. But as the Hindus would say, one god (goddess) destroys while the other, creates. Now, please stay with me, because I will get right back to our white hole! First, let me remind you that the God Cloud which approaches Earth is composed of subatomic particles which form a beautiful but strange cosmic object in outer space. It is an energy mass; it is an energy entity.

This strange cloud will help you raise the veil to a new and better dimension (world). Things are not as dark as they seem. This unknown, cosmic object is what we call, in spiritual terms, a God Cloud. They are rare but absolutely wondrous, miraculous, and magic.

No doubt the alien but highly positive collective consciousness of this God Cloud, sensed that Earth was in serious trouble, and The Cloud set sail for Earth. (These clouds do not move predictably as most objects in the universe do).

Now, back to our white hole: The immediate source of this God Cloud of extremely pure, highly enlightened, cosmic particles, is the massive white hole which is the other side of the coin from that massive black hole. These are pristine, pure, God particles.

You must realize that there is a huge variation in the quality of sub- $\gamma$  particles on which consciousness dwells. (All things in the universe are diverse). The universe never allows mediocrity or stagnation. Change is the key motivator of the universe.

This is overly simple, but basically true: The fact the black hole is so finicky is why the white hole can create particles of such high vibration. I might add, the Monster Black Hole was not always so finicky - he has 'learned/ Am I saying that black holes and white holes have consciousness?

Of course they do!

Is not Gaia the conscious spirit of Earth - who is a planet? Does not Sol the Sun have a real but alien consciousness? Gaia supplies the fertile ground for life (the womb), while Sol supplies the warm and bright cosmic sperm. Let there be LIFE on Earth!

Sol is not as alien as stars far away from Earth because Sol is the father star of the Solar System. He is the center of our Solar System family.

Do you remember those amazing photographs from the Hubble Telescope in which massive, distant clouds of cosmic dust, novae, nebulae, quasars, stars of all descriptions - looked as if they were gigantic alien monsters and beings? They are/That is, there is consciousness, intelligence, all over the universe! Of course there is!

A human being, even an ancient wizard like me, might not be able to understand the language, the thoughts, the feelings, of a supernova, but there is a mighty intelligence, a sentience.

The mighty intelligence of the supernova allows it to explode over the cosmos by its own definition of "time;" then its particles (individual molecules of consciousness) reform for a billion years or two, only to be gobbled up by a black hole so as to reemerge from a white hole as new life, a new life form. They are, once again, a new form of consciousness and intelligence.

Transformation!

Did not your own physical molecules come from a volcano deep within Mother Earth? Yes, they did. But where did the volcano get her molecules in the first place? The volcano received her molecules from the cosmos, from a far- distant explosion, from a black/ white hole, and on we go!

Dark energy and dark matter (not evil), which astronomers are beginning to guess about, compose the vast majority of the universe. Although dark energy and matter are invisible, is there a presence, a consciousness within them also?

Of course. What else is the universe?!

W'Vora ended transmission there, closing with: "Be ever magical!" (from) W'VORA the Wizard

TESLA SPEAKS - OF FREE ENERGY, HUMAN FREEDOM, E-BOMBS, SCALAR WEAPONS, AND PSYCHOTRONIC WARFARE

I was absolutely astounded when Nikola Tesla appeared before me, in the mists of my North Iowa meadow, four years ago. He was not 3 dimensionally solid, but he was real - he is real] I have felt his presence and heard his words many times since. I know that he is very concerned about the state of our planet and the misuse of enormous energies.

Tesla has given several urgent messages since that first visionary appearance in my meadow; his transmissions are intended to help us through these "end times" so that we can also reach the place - that level - of existence which he has reached. It is so much better than this world! Tesla is holding out his hand to us by transmitting these messages; I truly believe that these message of his hold the answers.

Tesla is worried and angry that the New World Order has stolen his technology, which he intended to be free to all humankind, and which was meant to be immensely helpful, not hurtful. Examples of these thefts are the awesome scalar weapon which may have brought down the Shuttle Columbia and the new E-bomb which manipulates electromagnetic energy, like something out of a science fiction novel.

These bombs, now in the hands of the United States/New World Order military for the attack in Iraq, are absolutely incredible - and they use Tesla's discoveries and technology. Equally chilling: Terrorists can create a similar weapon for $400.00.

Nikola Tesla recently sent me angry, troubled communications on both the Columbia disaster and the horrendous E-bomb. He has also sent me "fighting words" which are really words of hope and inspiration for us all.

We will share all Tesla's information with you as well as scientific specifics from The Weekly Standard, Time Magazine, the New York Post, and Popular Mechanics, regarding EMP weapons (the E-bomb). The E-Bomb will melt your computer, your electrical outlets and batteries, and all telephone and electrical lines. They will halt all vehicle engines, never to start again. If you have a heart pace maker, it will stop. And this is just for starters.

This is not in the future, this is now, and it uses what Tesla gave us as a gift - but he wished to use it only for the freedom, peace, and happiness of the individual.

In an article in Popular Mechanics, September 2001, Jim Wilson writes:

"The next Pearl Harbor will not announce itself with a searing flash of nuclear light or with the plaintive wails of those dying of Ebola or its genetically engineered twin. You will hear a sharp crack in the distance. By the time you mistakenly identify this sound as an innocent clap of thunder, the civilized world will have come unhinged."

" Fluorescent lights and television will glow eery bright, despite being turned off.

The aroma of ozone mixed with smoldering plastic will seep from outlet covers as electric wires arc and telephone wires melt. Your Palm Pilot and MP3 player will feel warm to the touch, their batteries overloaded. Your computer, and every bit of data in it, will be toast."

"And then you will notice that the world sounds different, too. The background music of civilization, the whirl of internal combustion engines, will have stopped. Save a few diesels, engines will never start again."

"You, however, will remain unharmed as you find yourself thrust backward 200 years, to a time when electricity meant a lightning bolt in the night sky. This is not a hypothetical son-of-Y2K scenario, it is a realistic assessment of the damage the Pentagon believes would be inflicted by a new form of weapon, the E-Bomb."

Five years ago, we featured urgent transmissions from Tibus and other friends of Space/Time Intelligence, telling us of the dangers of superconductors. This technology opens up science fiction-like scenarios which humankind is not yet advanced enough spiritually to handle correctly. The technology is extremely dangerous, seemingly going against the laws of physics and all we believe about reality itself.

Superconductors are an extension of Tesla's discoveries and they also make use of Albert Einstein's advanced research. Both of these geniuses were also visionaries and warned against this powerful energy falling into the hands of the war mongers and the greedy.

Time Magazine wrote, in the January 19, 2003 issue:

Secret new electromagnetic pulse weapons can unleash in a flash as much electrical power - 2 billion watts or more - as the Hoover Dam generates in 24 hours.

The September 2001 Popular Mechanics article concludes:

America has remained at the forefront of EMP weapons development. Although much of this work is classified, it's believed that current efforts are based on using high temperature superconductors to create intense magnetic fields. (And it's) an astoundingly simple weapon. It consists of an, explosives-packed tube placed inside a slightly larger copper coil. The instant before the chemical explosive is detonated, the coil is energized by a bank of capacitors, creating a magnetic field...

Ultimately, the military wants to use E-bombs to explode artillery shells in mid-flight, neutralize missiles, and...to fly unmanned aerial vehicles with E-bomb capabilities.

There is, however, another part of the E-bomb story that military planners are reluctant to discuss. While American versions are based on advanced technologies, terrorists could use a less expensive, low tech approach to create the same destructive power. 'Any nation with even 1940s technology could make them,' says Carlo Kopp, an Australian expert on high tech warfare. POPULAR MECHANICS estimated that the cost could be as low as $400.00.

We now realize why our friends in the higher realms sent such an urgent warning to Earth about superconductor technology. But how can we every day people, control the world's militaries or terrorists, keeping them from developing such evil weapons?

How can we, the good people of Earth, escape this world and find a new one which is safe from such fearful weapons? Can we find another Earth which is our good old planet, but which is rid of these evil uses of advanced technology and the negative people who develop and use them?

We believe that Nikola Tesla has given us the answers to this predicament in his recent transmissions to us. Here is another amazing transmission from our brother of the soul, Nikola Tesla:

This is Nikola Tesla.

I come to you in the light of logic.

My friends, little has changed since past dark times. Perceive this:

In the Dark Ages, the king of some feudal land, lived in royal comfort while his serf lived in cold, hungry poverty. In 2003, the CEO of some phony corporation lives in royal comfort while the homeless individual lives in cold, hungry poverty.

In the Dark Ages, the high-ups of The Church lived in luxury from the monies paid by poor people. All the while, the high-ups admonished and punished the poor for trying to survive. In 2003, the high-ups of the major religions, from Saudi Arabia to Rome to Alabama to Israel, live in luxury from monies made from poor people. All the while, the high-ups admonish and punish the poor people for trying to survive.

In the Dark Ages, you could be thrown into prison in chains for something you did not do, and there you stayed. In 2003, you can be thrown into prison in chains for something you did not do, and there you stay. Your public defender was asleep throughout your trial and could have cared less anyway, and you were turned in by some individual who "did a deal" with the court - a person who perhaps committed the crime himself.

In the Dark Ages, the king took most of your hard-earned money for taxes... Yes, you get the idea!

In ancient times, wars were started by the powerful in order to gain more power, more land, more resources, more money. The poor were the foot soldiers who were sent out to die.

I will spare you more sterling examples, but my point is a revolutionary one - in such a revolutionary way that even normal revolution does not fill my bill! There is no reason why the majority of good, decent humans should continue under the thumb of a few greedy, evil humans. There is no reason on Earth why good, decent humans have not grown enlightened enough, to emerge from fear.

Do not fear a whole new way. Do not fear living life without a greedy king. Do not fear living life without a bloody war. Do not fear life without huge corporations to sell you stuff you do not need so as they can control and ruin your life.

Do not fear living life without that filth called "money." Think how free life would be if you could simply live. Soon, banking systems will unravel anyway; there are already serious glitches; the system will indeed collapse. Do not be fearful; after the initial shock, you will embrace the demise of "money."

All you need to live a glorious, free life - can be bartered or given humanely, to each other. Inventions, innovations, should be given freely for the good of the whole. The lure of money always contaminates invention/innovation anyway, and damns the inventor.

In my human lifetime, I did not take the offers of the big money folk and consequently, I was not famous then. But now, I am of the universe, a powerful force for good. Look how popular I became while still retaining my soul! But, it is not Tesla the man who is popular; it is the force of Tesla - the force of what I stood for and stand for.

However, I submit that what I stand for is truly within you! I would be honored if you call this The Tesla Force. (That is, only if you wish to). This force, this spirit - is rebellious, yes. It sees clearly through greed, selfishness, and the lust for power. But this force is good and decent. This force has integrity. This force longs for freedom - for all.

Never let this spark die!

(from the spirit who is) TESLA

My guides, from Tibus to Tesla, have always stressed that humankind does not yet perceive the true nature of reality. The relatively new science of quantum physics confirms this; both scientific and spiritual perceptions merge into one truth, one reality.

My guides feel it is immensely important that enlightened humans grasp this truth about perception, reality, and consciousness fully, feeling it in the soul as well as the mind.

Tesla's words as they were given to me:

This truth is: We not only perceive the reality around us, we participate in creating it. Consciousness creates reality. Your consciousness is constantly creating and participating in the dimension you view as "reality." You may feel this is the only reality there is, but my friends, there are an infinite number of dimensions, an infinite number of realities. This is true all across the galaxy and the universe.

The mass consciousness of the human race is creating the reality of Earth, 2003. If humans thought, felt, and acted with more enlightenment, the reality would be different; that is, the frequency (the hum) of human consciousness would be of a higher octave. A brand new world would manifest! I do not mean this as a moral lesson, I mean literally! A brand new world would manifest before your eyes.

Human consciousness has the power to flip dimensions, just like you might flip a pancake. But we feel we are trapped in one reality ("here"), and so we stay trapped in this dark place thinking this is all there is.

Subatomic molecules on which consciousness itself is found/assess the greatest power in all the universe. These molecules are part of the electromagnetic flow of the universe. They flow in electromagnetic energy currents like particles in a stream.

I call this stream of particles radiant energy.

Your own brain is full of electromagnetic currents of radiant energy; when these become interrupted or interfered with, the individual may have seizures or even die.

Within your brain dwells your consciousness. Your consciousness molecules float in streams of electromagnetic energy; these streams of radiant energy are the native habitat for particles of consciousness. The two (electromagnetic currents and consciousness) are so entwined as to be one. They are you.

Just as the world could be transformed into a beautiful new reality, it could also be made into a more terrible place through controlling the human frequency of radiant energy. Humanity would then perceive a very dark world indeed. (Is this what is happening?)

Indeed, through the misuse of radiant energy, all life on Earth could end, and the sun could be affected adversely as well. Even the Milky Way Galaxy could be thrown out of balance.

The scientific fields of scalar warfare, psychotronics, and related misuses of radiant (free) electromagnetic energy, are so vast in scope that it is difficult to know where to begin. For instance, the perception of a battalion of soldiers can be controlled from six thousand miles away in the war control room; every individual within the battalion can be told that they have died, and all will die without one bullet being fired or one bomb being dropped. Nothing and no one has touched them.

Or, the perception of reality for one individual can be controlled from afar; if that individual is told to die, he will die - with no physical reason for death. Whatever the specific case, the evil is accomplished through mastery (control) of the electromagnetic fields of Earth and/or within the individual brain.

Such is the bone chilling reality of my (Tesla's) research as it is misused today by evil governments and militaries. Here is the key to mind control over entire populations, the key to manipulation of global weather, and to tampering with reality itself: And, this is the tip of the ice berg.

Radiant energy can readily defeat cancer and immune deficiency diseases; the cure for nearly all that ails humankind and other life forms on Earth, lies within the enlightened use of radiant energy (free energy). Its positive uses are infinite and would transform your life and your world into near-utopia.

If we become wise, we conclude that our short human lifetimes teach us that all in the universe is a battle between good and evil. Yes, there are shades of gray sometimes, but on the cosmic stage, we see spiritual warriors of immense goodness fighting the good fight. Their struggle is an eternal one, against the evil forces of greed, selfishness, and egomania.

All technical discoveries can be used to help, or they can be used to hurt. It seems that all too often in human history, the evil ones take total control of technical and scientific discoveries. My friends, if I had my human lifetime to live again, I would choose not to make my discovery of radiant energy (free energy) known to anyone. I dismay at how my discoveries have been misused. I grieve for those in power because they dwell in total darkness; most of all, I grieve for the world and its good citizens, both human and animal.

My friends, it is not my intention here to explain all the ramifications of these terrible weapons based on energetics such as scalar weapons, EMPs (E-bombs), and psychotronics. If you want technical details on them, look them up on the Internet; scientific explanations and "what-if s' run for hundreds of cyber pages. Look up Col. Thomas Bearden's work.

I wish only to say as I close this transmission, that the God Cloud about which you have learned, is full of radiant energy. It is brim-full! And it is all for the positive. It is all-positive because this is pure, pristine, miraculous, energy which is directly from and of the Creator Spirit. The quality of the consciousness particles within this cosmic electromagnetic cloud are of the highest possible; this is God Consciousness!

If it seems Satan himself can be unleashed through the misuse of electromagnetic energies, know also that God Energy can and will arrive through radiant energy currents and pulses.

I ask that you include with this message, a history of the former Soviet Union's attempt to warn the world of the mind-bending technology they were researching:

* On June 13, 1975, in a major speech. Premiere Brezhnev urged the United States to agree on a ban of research and development of new kinds of weapons "more terrible than anything the world has known."

* On July 2, 1975, Brezhnev repeated his proposed ban on development of frightful new weapons to a group of United States senators.

* The U.S.S.R. tried repeatedly during this period to get the world's attention, and particularly that of the United States, in banning new weapons which were literally unimaginable in the breadth and scope of their destructive power. The Soviets themselves were afraid of conducting further research in this field.

* On September 23, 1976, Gromyko presented a draft treaty agreement to the United Nations General Assembly banning frightful new weapons.

No one had the foggiest notion what the Soviets were talking about, and the subject was pushed into backlogs of red tape and "noise."

(From "Scalar Wars" on Internet): "This amazing discovery announces that the 'emptiness of space' is in fact not empty, but great oceans of seething energy! Col. Bearden refers to this ocean of energy as being of the time domain. Energy out of time?

"It sounds like something from STAR TREK but this is the point which the new science of scalar electromagnetics has reached. And where it is going may be beyond anything STAR TREK ever dreamed."

Tesla concludes: Yes, even time travel is possible through radiant (free) energy. It is the key, the basis, the source - for time travel. My friends, in the coming decade, the beginning of human time travel may become possible! This prediction is not overly optimistic but is in fact, realistic.

However, the fly in the ointment is humankind's low spiritual level. The human race should not have these radiant energy discoveries because they are already being completely misused - used for greed, power, control. Time travel of course can be used for evil purposes and so it must be withheld until the human race evolves to its higher octave of consciousness. This higher octave of consciousness also involves radiant energy.

Radiant energy is all around; you as an enlightened human would use it only for the positive; I have a surprise for you - you already do use radiant energy to some degree. You have a gift for extracting radiant energy from the "All" that is around you (that seething ocean of energy). This is how you work your spiritual magic, cleansing and healing the reality around you. This is how you have psychic flashes and input from your guardian angel. Do you realize this?

You can learn to use radiant energy even more. Your spiritual, healing, and psychic work can then become more powerful, more successful.

Ultimately, it is you who will evolve into that beautiful New Dawn of the future, leaving the misuse of this mighty energy behind you.

TESLA ENDS TRANSMISSION

Following September 11, 2001, Tesla sent this message:

THIS IS NIKOLA TESLA.

I come to you in the light of logic.

When I send a channeled message to Diane (or through Diane), it is my spirit - my soul - which drives the message. Understand, I am not bemoaning the loss of my earthly physical body, I was absolutely thrilled to fly free of it. "I'm out of here!" I shouted into the cosmic corridors. Even though you know that consciousness survives after "death," you may not fully realize how beautiful, how magnificent - it is to be free of earthly chains.

Gravity. The physical body. Politics. Illness. Pollution. Crime. Greed. Oh, I could go on and on: None of these exist once the butterfly leaves the cocoon! Once you leave the physical shell, you are free and it is beautiful.

What is contained in this message is perhaps more important than scientific inventions. I wish to give you the most magical of commodities: HOPE.

The tumbling of venerable financial institutions is actually due to the first waves of the cosmic tide which heralds the New Dawn. You have only witnessed the beginning of a vast crumbling, both physical and financial. Irreversible.

The questions: why right now are corporations being investigated or why right now is the stock market in a wild dive and/or constantly depressed, is not because there is a sinister plot to topple all these institutions (although there well may be a sinister plot), but because it is simply time.

I do not mean "time" in a judgmental sense but in the sense that the universe has its own timing, its own streams of energies, it's own sense of balance. And it is now time for Earth to evolve to a higher spiritual frequency or cease to exist.

Of course, many on Earth "dance" to cosmic energies and do not even realize it.

The global banking bigwigs, the powers-that-be, do not realize that there is something higher, something more universal, which is influencing actions and trends in the political and financial communities and which are bringing the downfall of the "money and credit systems" as you know them.

Even Al Qaeda may be used for eventual good by the universe. What is happening is bigger than Al Qaeda and bigger than the New World Order (the global control government) and the financial system. In fact, what is happening dwarfs Al Qaeda and the NWO until they are smaller than the tiniest grains of sand on the beach.

Most people do not have stocks but it is easy to become discouraged and fearful if you do or if you don't (have stocks), so I am saying to you now: Events do not follow a "logical" path from 2003 onward.

Therefore, if it seems the stock market and, indeed, the world around you, is tumbling into oblivion, do not fear. The worst of your fears, as you picture them in the world which now-is, will never happen. For now, yes, financial systems worldwide are straining and will fall. This causes fear but you will survive.

A reality will soon dawn which does not include "the stock market" in its vocabulary or its reality. Therefore, your stocks and bonds which are taking a "beating" in the present world, will no longer exist at all in the coming reality. No one will have them. The New Pawn is a world in which stocks, currency, and a financial system do not exist. Be of good cheer: you won't miss them! How absolutely wondrous to be free of the chains of "finances!" And, you will survive in the interim.

Do not panic if banks are the next to come under investigative and judicial attack. The CEOs and boards of directors well deserve to get in trouble. I know you are yelling at me, "I need functioning banks, however crooked, as I try to survive in the dying mundane world!"

Please, just ride the wave, do not stress internally. It will be alright. Banks could not be expected to remain as-was, as all else changes. The changes which will occur in the* next ten years, may cause worry and fear but you must battle this impulse to bow to fear. Think of your life once it is free of the worry of obtaining money. You should have all you need and all that makes you and your loved ones happy, without having to depend on "money." These are yours by birthright! Humans invented the money system very recently in terms of Earth's history. It was a bad invention, it is time for it to pass into the mists of the past.

The first waves are rolling in from outer space. The God Cloud is in the northern skies. This is why we began communications with many of you years ago. This is the crux of the reason UFOs have been in your skies, crop circles have appeared on your fields (Gaia, the living spirit of Earth herself also creates these), and contact with "us aliens" has occurred (and is occurring).

Diane's friend Jeanne said shortly before her death, "I'm not afraid of death, it's just 'the getting there.'" In the same way, the Change Times, especially the first actual cosmic waves of it, are like "the getting there." Above all, do not cling to money as if it was really worth anything. You must learn to let it go, because the situation will get worse in the years to come, until the system is no more.

These are frightening times - yes. The unknown lies ahead just as the unknown lies ahead when one dies - the change which is happening is that large a change.

Let it be clear: In no way is this promised New Dawn just another way of saying, "If you are good, you're going to heaven after you die because the whole planet is facing doomsday." No, this is not what we are saying!

A new layer of time (a time line) is about to be set down by the universe itself. Its messenger is the God Cloud. The molecules which compose the new time line are lighter (less dense) than the ones which compose your world now. Those who can adapt to this new higher frequency of being, will continue to exist in the new time line. This time line has no need of money or financial system.

Incidentally, when I say "time line," this is not accurate because your new vibration will not subject to "time." It is time you graduated beyond the chains and restrictions of time as well as the chains which money imposes. But in speaking of this, we still refer to it as a time line. Specifically, it is a time line with no time. It is a time line with all time.

Paradoxical but true. (Aren't paradoxes grand?).

It is good to keep things in perspective: While what is happening, and will be happening, to Earth and on Earth, is traumatic, and then glorious, she (Earth) is but one small planet in the "back waters" of a not-too-big galaxy. The universe (the Creator Spirit) created the entire expanse of stars, quasars, novae, planets, satellites, dark matter, dark energy, light matter, light energy, galaxies, all the life forms therein, and endless space. The universe and its Creator Spirit revel in the changes which occur, infinitely.

And so, Earth's Change Times will occur, come to fruition, and a glorious new dimension will emerge. All in a day's work for the universe! If you prefer to call this "God," then you are also accurate.

It has been my wish to alleviate some of the worry which you must be feeling, especially regarding the crumbling financial, social, and political systems. I cannot stop them from crumbling nor would I want to. But you will be alright! You are experiencing "the getting there" and the world around you is not pleasant. Stay centered, serene and independent. Have plenty of provisions stored in your home. Do not learn to hate. You are not alone (transmission ends).

I am - Tesla

Bulletin: PENTAGON PURSUES EARTH-PIERCING WEAPON

My guide Tibus called my urgent attention to an article which appeared in the Washington Post in March 2003. It tells of another new, highly disturbing misuse of radiant energy, given to humanity by Nikola Tesla for peaceful, helpful purposes only.

To make matters worse, this new weapon uses radiant energy to deliver nuclear catastrophe, thus combining the two gigantically powerful sources of energy.

From the WASHINGTON POST: The Pentagon is about to take the first public step toward obtaining a controversial, high-yield, earth-penetrating nuclear weapon that could be aimed at North Korea's underground nuclear and missile production facilities, according to senior Bush administration officials.

Within a week, an Air Force report is to be delivered to the House and Senate Armed Services committees stating the military requirements for the robust nuclear earth-penetrator.

This is a device designed to dig into the ground before it explodes and crushes any facility buried beneath it. Already five times more powerful than the device detonated at Hiroshima, the bomb would have an even greater impact because a nuclear weapon's force is multiplied when its shock wave penetrates the rocky crust of Earth.

Tibus explains to me that this horrific weapon would cut through the very heart (the core) of Mother Earth, and would travel through her thick layers of rock and molten lava - via radiant energy.

This "teleporting" would be similar to the photon beam transporter in STAR TREK which transports an object (in this case, a nuclear bomb), from one place to another.

To cut through the core of Gaia would be an unforgivable transgression in itself in spiritual terms. In practical terms, such a penetration might even stop the rotation of the planet. A film was made on this subject recently called THE CORE.

Such a weapon must not be completed. Such a weapon must not be controlled by any earthly military power!

As well as the inherent evil in such a weapon, it also causes paranoia among nations which are emerging as nuclear powers because they believe the United States can attack them at any time in most unorthodox and destructive ways. This causes these countries to consider nuclear strike(s) first, before the U.S. can attack them from, literally, beneath their feet.

SHUTTLE COLUMBIA: HIGH TECH SABOTAGE FROM AFAR

On a cold Iowa Saturday morning, I watched the tragic reports of the space shuttle Columbia's violent break up. Like all Americans and indeed, all citizens of Earth, a number of troublesome questions popped into my head. These are questions not only relevant to the demise of The Columbia but to the safety of all space vehicles, airplanes, ships, and any vehicles with a computer aboard.

In recent years, Tibus and his friends on high have warned over and over of upcoming bizarre accidents and sabotage involving transportation. Here are a few of the questions which must be answered:

Was it a coincidence that the first Israeli astronaut was on board Columbia? He was a military hero in Israel who took part in the Yom Kippur war and also lead eight Israeli military jets, masquerading as a commercial airliner by flying close together, in the bombing of Saddam Hussein's nuclear facility in 1981.

Did the insulating foam really knock off enough tiles from the left wing to cause the break up?

Although a lot of mention is given to the insulating foam which blew off the left side of the Columbia upon takeoff, an ex-astronaut has said that this was no more dangerous to the shuttle than a Styrofoam cup hitting a car going 70 mph. Is this explanation being used as a handy excuse?

What are other theories regarding an accident (not sabotage):

College professor. Dr. Richard Jarvinen works with NASA and most recently has been doing research on safer shuttle landings. He states that The Columbia had a heavier load than any other shuttle mission on its return to Earth. This could have thrown off the center of gravity, per the computers' readings, and tilted the shuttle to fly belly-up.

Then there is the fact they had been doing experiments with combustibles in micro-gravity. Did something explode from within the left hand side of the cargo bay?

Then there are the "no accident" theories:

"No missile fired from Earth could have hit the shuttle. "

That's not true. There is an extremely high tech scalar weapon which is described as the "Tesla Howitzer." It has the range to have hit Columbia. Many people heard a loud boom but a sonic boom could not have been heard at 40,000 feet or above. Was the boom really the sound of a Tesla Howitzer from a far distance, zapping The Columbia? There is no limit to distance when scalar weapons are used; weapons based in radiant energy can be thousands of miles away - distance is irrelevant.

Communications on this theory describe the Pentagon as "red faced" about this incident and go on to state that the scalar weapon which hit Columbia "was not exactly the weapon beam which hit the World Trade Towers."

Other questions must be: Did space aliens shoot Columbia down from an equal position (to the Columbia) on the edge of space, or from space itself?

Or, did (human) terrorists shoot down Columbia? But wouldn't they take instant credit? Perhaps they want to be free to act again in a similar way, thus haven't brought the heat down on themselves?

On the other hand, did the government sabotage the shuttle themselves for some obscure reason?

Tibus tells me there is great significance to the Columbia disaster and that it is important, even to you personally, to know the truth. Here is his channeled transmission:

This is Tibus. I come to you in love and light.

It is so good to be in communication with you. Some of you are aware that there are many rumors on the Internet that the global government will issue false news in the months ahead: That there has been an alien landing or invasion. This exact message came into Diane's computer from a UFO group, several days before the Columbia disaster. They state that this will be a false report of an invasion - a lie by the global government, fronted by the United States.

On February 2, 2003, on "Meet the Press," a panel of ex-astronauts were asked the question, "Do you believe in extraterrestrial life?" The Sunday morning news programs are important in shaping the views of the American people. What did this question, asked out of the blue, have to do with Columbia?

Each man answered, "Yes, I do believe in extraterrestrial life;" one former astronaut indicated that extraterrestrial life might be more intelligent than humankind and might be closer than millions of light years away.

Actually, the answers were on a carefully drawn scale of 1 to 4, from "Yes, but skeptical," to "Yes, absolutely, there's extraterrestrial life; it isn't so far away and it isn't so stupid!"

Were these answers orchestrated to expose the American people to the existence and/or threat of extraterrestrials? This thought has been stifled in the mass consciousness in recent years. Interest in UFOs has been "out of fashion." Then, out of the blue, on a show about a terrible disaster, came the old question: "How about extraterrestrial life?"

Diane admits that the first thing which popped into her mind as she heard about Columbia, "Only aliens could have reached the shuttle with a missile!" Diane is not alone in this thought, millions of people are thinking it.

Before I transmit to you the truth as I know it, allow me some additional input regarding diverse possibilities: Columbia's fatal flight was especially high security due to the Israeli astronaut, and it would have been almost impossible for a bomb to be placed on the shuttle before takeoff, so that leaves a missile - or does it? There is no doubt that the timing of this disaster is extremely suspicious.

Virtually the entire mission of each shuttle flight is controlled by computers, either down on the ground or within the shuttle. Could human terrorists have sabotaged either of those computers? There is already much worry in the United States and Britain that terrorists could wreck havoc through striking computers only - computers which control vital services and functions of the society, from banking to health services. This would be done without firing a shot and without planting one bomb. Remember the E-bomb and similar electromagnetic disruptions which zap computers!

There have been reports that fundamentalist Moslem businessmen have sold computers to the government's vital agencies such as NASA and even NORAD. Worries have been expressed publicly that someone with pre-knowledge on the workings of those computers, might manage to fire NORAD's nuclear defense arsenal. Or, expert computer hackers might be able to do it. Also, it has been suggested that The Pentagon could be hacked into - ah yes, it already has been hacked into, several times.

Were the computers which governed Columbia's reentry, sabotaged by being given the wrong instructions or simply disabled? There were computer abnormalities right before the break up. And, it was the computer guidance system which was to fly the shuttle with pinpoint accuracy through the reentry process; there is no human piloting in the reentry. For the computer to be even a little bit inaccurate, would cause Columbia to over heat and then to break up.

Is this what happened to the Columbia?

My (Tibus') input is: Yes it is. Columbia's computers brought it down. Were computers disabled through the instantaneous transmission of an electromagnetic pulse, similar to the E-bomb, or was it human computer hacking? And who did it?

It is my input that the computers on the Columbia were sabotaged at the most crucial moment as they reached Mach 12, when the crew would least likely survive. There would not be time to figure contingency plans or for the human pilot to try to take control of it.

Was it the bad guy aliens? My input is no but you are free to make your own conclusion.

The computer sabotage which brought down Columbia was done from Earth, with a human source. The Columbia's demise was instigated by the same humans who perpetrated the attack on the World Trade Towers and The Pentagon on September 11, 2001.

On the surface of perception, this is the extreme Moslems. The Israeli war hero was someone they would want to kill; this would add to their motivation.

However, the truth about 9/11 is still generally unknown.

As deeper threads are pulled in the crazy quilt of the Change Times, there are deeper answers to "who done it." I must comment, it is very difficult to address the truth when there are so many threads in the fabric of reality in 2003.

Why has this explanation for the Columbia disaster not even been whispered: Computer-zapping of the reentry program would, without fail, cause the space shuttle to over-heat and to break up. Would this possibility point to EMP sabotage? This advanced technology used in the E-bomb, is a technology which (supposedly), only the United States possesses.

Is it felt that Americans should not yet know how vulnerable their society and their civilization - is? Everything is dependent on electricity, computers, or batteries. If EMP technology is used, society will be returned to the level of the Stone Age. Even heart pace makers for the elderly and incubators for premature babies, would cease functioning in an EMP attack. As Tesla has said, electromagnetic (radiant) energy is the source of universal power.

The entire world is in jeopardy because human governments have insisted on vast stocks of nuclear weapons which are controlled through computers. Also, vital transportation systems such as trains, planes, and subways, are run by computers.

Before I conclude this channeling, I must comment, how ignorant human political leadership has been, to go headlong into high technology, allowing life itself, survival itself, to be controlled by computers.

As to who sabotaged Columbia, as you can conclude from reading this transmission, the answer lies, tragically, close to Columbia's home source.

Although the United States shuttle missions have become dominated by the military, with military objectives, the seven men and women who died, were good souls, pioneering souls, with mighty spirits. We grieve their loss from the earthly world, and we welcome them to new life on a higher plane.

May the healing light of goodness surround you, always,

TIBUS

RAPIDLY RISING WATER LEVELS AND THE CHANGING OF THE GLOBAL WEATHER SYSTEM

My guide Tibus has been with me for many years.

He is my guardian angel, having protected and guided me from early childhood. However, he prefers the term "star guardian." It seems the higher realms are full of different, delightful, wondrous dimensions and worlds. When we use the term "higher realm" we really mean "realms" in the plural. As I understand it, there are an infinite number of higher dimensions and worlds, and an endless cosmic landscape of enlightenment and beauty. Very few worlds are as dark and as low in frequency of consciousness, as Earth presently is.

Tibus often acts as a "universal adapter" so that I can receive messages from alien beings or vastly different entities whom I could not understand on my own. Sometimes Tibus describes himself as a ham radio operator who patches through a third party; he is the booster station.

Tibus always protects me spiritually before this process begins so as I will not be inadvertently hurt. I am never put in communication with truly evil entities. Some of the beings I hear from through Tibus are of the wildly natural world; they seem amoral but not immoral. Usually on closer inspection, I find that they have good motives. They are for life, not for its destruction.

One of the spirits which Tibus patches through to me is the "Guardian of the Oceans." You might ask, is this an entity with a physical body or merely the "feeling that the ocean imparts?"

Tibus tells me that the answer lies somewhere between. This is a living spirit with a life force and identity of his/her own. Incidentally, Tibus tells me that the Guardian of the Ocean contains both a female persona who nurtures life, and a male persona who provides the spark (sperm) for life.

Tibus also explains that The Guardian of the Oceans has great anger at what human-kind is doing to the oceans of the planet. "This spirit also contains all the wildness of a storm on the high seas. But there is also the gentle beauty of the coral reef and the placid magnificence of the ocean at sunset."

Now, Tibus and I are ready to receive the transmission from the Guardian of the Oceans. Tibus guided me to supplement this transmission with facts which back up our message with documented reality.

I am the Guardian of the Oceans.

I come to you with Tibus as my interpreter.

The situation is grave. So many of my "ocean provinces" are in deep distress!

THE SOUTHERN OCEAN swirls in the vicinity you call the Antarctic; it is the lungs of all my oceans. It generates most of the oxygen which then circulates through a vast network to all my other oceans and seas. Now, its currents have been vastly altered and huge amounts of fresh water are pouring in which upsets everything - almost overnight.

Humans simply do not yet realize (can I forgive their ignorance and even their stupidity?) the wonder, complexity, and interconnectedness of the planet's waters. By the time humans realize, will it be too late? By the time they stop contaminating, destroying, and plundering, will it be too late?

THE SOUTHERN OCEAN is generating less oxygen in 2003 than in 2002, and so it goes. It is being slowly starved of oxygen. The Southern Ocean and therefore Gaia's entire ocean network, cannot live with restricted, dwindling oxygen any more than your physical body can live with restricted, dwindling oxygen. The build up of greenhouse gases is to blame.

THE NORTH ATLANTIC OCEAN is the headwater for an interlinked system of currents called by humans, the oceanic conveyor belt. These currents carry vast quantities of heat from the tropics to the poles. Near Greenland, so much heat is shed that it is equivalent to the rate of half a million nuclear reactors.

These waters are very salty, which makes them dense, and the heat loss makes them denser still. In fact, they became so dense that they sink and flow back south along the ocean bottom, drawing additional southerly waters north at the surface. Wondrous, complicated, interconnected! This "overturning" feeds energy into other currents which lace the Pacific, Indian, and polar oceans. Because of this, there are deserts, rainy regions, rain forests, and typical storm tracks across Mother Earth. There is a huge rush of fresh water into the North Atlantic from melting glaciers and ice shelves as well as the usual rivers and rain. This influx disrupts ocean currents vital not only to Europe's weather patterns but to the global climate.

To look at Europe for a moment., it is farther north than most people realize. Paris is on a line with the sub-Arctic town of Gander, Newfoundland. Ireland, which seldom has snow, is as far north as snowy Minnesota. The warming radiator for Europe is the Atlantic Ocean. These days, due to global warming, here comes newly melted fresh water into the Atlantic. The ocean water becomes less dense. The water arriving from the south can no longer sink, even as it cools off, so it does not make room for the next batch. The brakes are put on precious ocean circulation and oxygen starvation begins. The entire balance is lost. The entire natural process, in place for millions of years, is halted. It is halting as we speak.

This is and will turn the global climate topsy-turvy.

As the rest of the planet warms, Europe may well cool significantly. But to the point of Newfoundland? Yes, very possibly, and perhaps into an Ice Age. Saddest of all is the snowball effect. All is interconnected on the living, vibrant planet; one area out of balance, leads to another out of balance, and so the original "global warming monster" snowballs to greater and greater intensity and extreme.

More shocking news: In the BAY OF BENGAL, connected to the INDIAN OCEAN, thousands of sea snails are dying, creating a terrible stench. "We are baffled," says Mohammed Zaher, a scientist with Sea Fish research. Meanwhile, in the TEJO RIVER ESTUARY, Portugal, biggest estuary in Western Europe, rising water temperatures have dramatically changed the species of fish. Global warming has caused cold water species such as flounder and red mullet to die while Senegal sea bream and African dogfish have moved in. This warming phenomenon is happening not just in Portugal but in bodies of water all over the planet.

THE NORTH SEA: countries bordering it are facing an “alien invasion” of creatures and plants which ships flush out of their tanks. In THE MEDITERRANEAN, an alien algae is killing the ecosystem of the entire sea. Exotic species such as the Chinese mitten crab and Japanese seaweed now abound in the North Sea. Not so bad? Oh, but it is, because native species such as the wonderful salmon are dying. Foreign algae blocks their gills. Mother Earth was wise to place the Chinese mitten crab in Chinese waters, Japanese seaweed in Japanese waters, Norwegian salmon in Norwegian waters, and so on. She created balance. It worked.

GULF OF MEXICO/FLORIDA BAY: there is a large area of “black water” in Florida. Essentially, this is a cancerous spot. There is already a vast dead zone in the Gulf of Mexico from farm runoff. The new black water zone is growing; the black water has left a swath of destruction in its wake as it travels onward. Scientists consider it a “baffling blob.” In the Florida Keys, sponges are dying. Entire coral reefs are dead. Sea horses and starfish are suffering and will be decimated by this. “There’s a real meltdown occurring down there right now,” says scientist Ken Nedimyer who dove down into the black water. The black water/dead zone is caused by microscopic plankton which is proliferating because of environmental damage and loss of balance. The “cell” in which the black water now flourishes, is abnormal and spreads, like cancer.

I am a spirit. I guard the oceans, I try my hardest to protect them, as if they were my own - because - they are my own. They are me.

I am not accomplished at verbal communication and I thank Diane for providing the above research and documentation to back up the truth I am emotionally transmitting. My force, my power, my spirit, is amongst the mightiest on Earth. And, I dare say, amongst the mightiest in the galaxy. What is mightier, or more powerful than Earth’s oceans? What is more life-giving?

I have attempted to give you substantial, specific emergency situations as well as allowing you to see my heart and soul. I beg you to include Earth’s oceans in your prayers. The condition of all ocean mammals is a sad one. Entire species are becoming extinct before your eyes.

I also urge you to do all you can in an active way. Vote for the man or woman who will cherish Earth’s resources on land or sea. Champion the cause of saving Earth’s waters from contamination and pollution. Support efforts to clean up bodies of water. Toxins from industry and sewage must not be dumped into oceans any longer.

We promise you that the quality of your own life will suffer and eventually fail entirely if the oceans of Earth die or become nearly dead, lifeless seas. Your welfare and your life itself are linked beyond any unlinking, with the oceans of Earth. You have no future without Earth’s living, vibrant oceans.

With these emotional, agitated words, Tibus ended our communication session with the Guardian of the Oceans.

With Tibus input, we would like to outline the areas of the planet which we feel will experience severely rising water in the next ten years. Our map does not show The Arctic, which has no solid land and which is melting quickly into a sea devoid of ice, nor Antarctica which is experiencing the break up of its ancient, thick ice shelves. These two areas have almost no human population, and so we will concentrate on the populated areas of the planet. The United States is detailed on a separate map.

Area 1. North America: Chronic flooding, severe snow and rain storms along the east coast. The central river basin (the Mississippi) to be clogged with ice flows long past the winter season. Then, after several years of drought, floods will be more severe than any on record. West coast flooding and heavy storms to change the coast line drastically. Florida, Louisiana, areas of Nova Scotia, Newfoundland, and British Columbia, to face serious, chronic rising water; areas of these will disappear. Chronic flooding along the St. Lawrence Waterway.

Area 2, Central America; Constant severe flooding in Mexico, interspersed with drought. Entire areas of the Central American peninsula will go under water.

Area 3. The Caribbean: Low lying islands with few mountains will nearly disappear, as will islands in the Pacific. The heavily inhabited coastal areas of islands with mountains, will face chronic flooding.

Area 4, South America: Both the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans are receiving newly melted waters from the Arctic and Antarctic, as well as all the planet's glaciers from the European Alps to Mount Kilimanjaro in Africa. South America will experience increased coastal flooding as well as the swelling of its mighty rivers. Sadly, when not flooding, there will be times of drought, because the balance has been lost.

Area 5, Europe: Northern Europe faces a drastic change of climate as well as a battle with rising waters, because fresh water continues to pour into salty oceans, thus the ocean's "climate conveyor belt" is completely changed. Glaciers are melting or have melted already, across Europe.

Area 6. Africa: Continued drought coupled with coastal flooding is the sad forecast for Africa. There have already been tragic floods unlike any in memory, along coastal areas. Islands off the coast of Africa will disappear.

Area 7, The Middle East: Chronic drought, with tidal waves off the Indian Ocean causing severe damage to coastal areas. Growing intensity of sand storms.

Area 8, Asia: China has experienced terrible flooding as waters rise, and more is to come. Japan will see certain islands and low areas, almost disappear beneath constant flooding. Waters will inundate parts of Indonesia and entire islands will disappear.

Area 9: Australia: Continued drought and devastating fires, with chronic flooding of low coastal areas.

Many people think that "global warming" means it will get hotter and hotter. While recent years have been consistently the hottest on record all across the planet, the reality is, the climate may suddenly become drastically colder, catapulting us into another ice age. What global warming really means is that our planetary climate has lost its balance. It is either too hot or too cold - consistently. It is either too dry or too wet (flooding), regularly. These climate extremes used to be unusual, while "normal" was - normal.

Huge ice islands float in our southern oceans; these are ice bergs bigger than any known before. They are parts of Antarctica which have cracked off. Antarctic ice shelves are greatly diminished - ice shelves which are millions of years old and hundreds of feet thick.

The United States is experiencing variety of extreme weather and climate situations; while there may have been droughts before, or there may have been floods before, never have virtually all weather extremes occurred in the same two year period. Rising global water levels and drastic changes in the ocean currents, assure that the climate will only become more hostile to humans, animals, and plants. Many trees are in danger of extinction; trees as a whole, across the entire planet, are drastically dwindling in number. Of course many are cut (logged) but many others are diseased and are simply dying out. Lack of trees adds to the climate's drastic changes in a snowballing effect. Lack of oxygen in the air leads to increased global warming, and onward goes the downward spiral.

On the next page is a map of the United States which we have numbered in order to predict the outcome of global warming (the greenhouse effect) and rising water levels in specific areas, in the next ten to twenty years. Our predictions come with the guidance * of my spirit guide Tibus. This is information he transmits to me about the future:

Area 1. The Northwest: Heavy storms come ashore almost every winter, demolishing shorelines, causing mud slides, mud flows, and chronic flooding. Possible tsunami due to earthquake activity in the Pacific Ocean.

Area 2, Central and Southern California: Intermittent drought and heavy flooding, which causes mud slides. Santa Anna winds blow almost constantly, more ubiquitous than in years past. Parts of the California coast will crumble into the ocean.

Area 3, The Southwest: Drought with occasional heavy floods, because the parched land floods so easily when rain does fall. Rain will come in heavy storms, not gentle rains. Dust storms on the rise.

Area 4. Coastal Louisiana. Mississippi. Alabama, and most of Florida: These areas are in a pre-phase of going completely underwater. More humidity, lapping water levels, far above levels of the recent past. Dangerous lightning.

Area 5. Oklahoma, Arkansas. & inland areas of the states of the "Old South:"

Increasing tornado activity, almost constant heavy humidity, high winds, increased storms and lightning interspersed with periods of drought.

Area 6. The Midwest; Almost constant high winds, periods of drought with occasional heavy rains, the flooding, especially along the Mississippi basin. The Mississippi will experience ice jams past the usual winter seasons. Heavy humidity.

Area 7. Upper Plains: Periods of drought, unseasonable snows, winters either too warm or severely cold, high winds all too often. Unusual floods.

Area 8. Montana, Idaho. Wyoming: Unseasonable cold & snow, drought, high winds.

Area 9. Colorado, Nevada, Utah: Rivers drying up (as is true in many areas of the country), unseasonable cold and snow, drought, bad forest fires which causes extremely high heat and storms (as is true elsewhere in the country).

Area 10. Coastal Georgia, Carolinas; Unusual periods of extreme cold, coastal flooding even with small tropical storms, high humidity and heat all too often, storms with bad lightning, possibility of huge hurricanes (as is true in other coastal areas).

Area 11. Upper East Coast. New England, Maine: Possibility of a tsunami due to earthquake activity in the Azores, rising coastal water, weather in both extremes with little balance, periods of heavy rain, then periods of drought.

Area 12. Michigan, Inland New York State. St. Lawrence Waterway/Great Lakes: Great Lakes rise in water level at alarming rate, flooding along the St. Lawrence, severe winter storms, high winds almost constantly.

Area 13. Alaska: Permafrost will become nearly nonexistent, water levels rise so as to inundate villages and towns, shift in land mass, buildings crumble (also a problem elsewhere). Winters are warmer than in many "original 48" areas. Even though ocean waters rise, there is little normal rain.

Area 14. Hawaii: Pacific Ocean gobbles up beaches and edges into islands, volcanic activity causes extreme storms as well, rainfall lessens.

Briefing on climate change, rising waters and the realities of war:

Climatologists feel that the planet could take a sudden turn toward the frigid after these years of getting warmer and more humid. Sub zero temperatures could become standard, filling rivers with chunks of ice, thus stopping shipping, cutting short the growing season, which would be too cool even while it existed, and altering bird migrations. These conditions could stay for decades or centuries.

Behind this cruel scenario is the baffling ocean phenomenon that experts watch with rising angst: An expanding mass of fresh water in the usually salty North Atlantic which has spread alarmingly in the past seven years. This mass of fresh water now reaches from Greenland to the Carolinas, an area of 15 million square miles. It originated in melted global glaciers and polar ice.

If the build up continues, it will impede the Gulf Stream, the major climate-maker which transports warm air to northern latitudes in winter. Northeastern United States and Western Europe would be most greatly affected, transformed into virtual iceboxes.

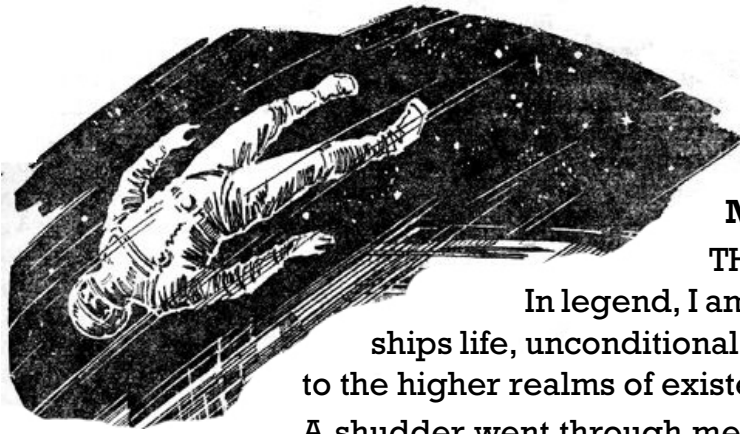

A pivotal threshold is apparently being approached, and then our Mother Planet could switch gears virtually overnight; there would be a trigger effect to it. Then she would go into a completely different mode of operation (Gaia adapts, ever hopeful of surviving).

Britain is doing intensive research, trying to figure out what's happening and how to stop it. The United States should be urgently concerned but the present administration seems not to be. It is beyond us why the United States government isn't more concerned about a number of real crisis in the planet's climate. The government seems to be astute, and downright dogged, at pursuing those old demons, fear and war.

The U.S. attitude seems to be that we are too big and powerful to be bothered by global warming, global drought, global changes in ocean currents and huge changes in amount of fresh water in the salty oceans, the atmosphere's ozone crisis, rising water, worldwide - to such a degree as to be sinking a number of island countries already.

Ironically, the United States has contributed far more than its share to these global environmental crisis in the first place. However, the focus has been on an aggressive, preemptive war with a country which didn't stand a chance against us, but which fought like hell, inflicting terrible injuries and deaths on our military men and women. And what of Iraqi children and women? Can all their injuries and deaths be dismissed as "Oops, another civilian accidentally killed or maimed." Meanwhile, the planet is dying.

THE TREES AND RAINFORESTS OF MOTHER EARTH, AN URGENT PLEA:

THIS IS TALIESIN, an ancient friend of Tibus.

In legend, I am known as Merlin. I am a being who worships life, unconditional love, freedom, and justice. I now belong to the higher realms of existence.

A shudder went through me as I discovered the magnificent, towering Redwood trees of California now have oak-killing spores within them. The sacred Mighty Oak is dying across the west of the United States and western Canada. This includes tens of thousands of Black Oak, Coast Live Oak, and Tan Oak. Did you know this tragedy has caused many camp sites and parks to be closed? This is addition to over-logging and horrendous forest fires.

Now we find that the spores from Phytophthora ramorum are embedded in the Redwoods. Incidentally, this organism is similar to what caused the Irish potato famine. My name, Taliesin, and I am of Ireland. My name is of the Irish language while "Merlin," is my name in English. But my origins and pride are not important here, the future of The Oak and the Redwood are what count.

DNA from Phytophthora ramorum has been extracted from coastal Redwood sprouts. Sprouts are how our Redwood brothers and sisters reproduce. When a Redwood dies, a new tree grows from one of her sprouts. Are the deadly spores simply on the surface of the little tree or have they burrowed into her tissue, meaning the Redwood will be a host? The worst case scenario is that Redwoods are susceptible to the disease. The best case scenario is that the spores stay on the surface, do not burrow in, and have no affect on the mighty Redwood.

My friends, here is the perfect time for us to influence this to a positive outcome! This disease is in its formative stages; officials say, "It's a new disease trying to figure out what its hosts are. It hasn't really settled in and evolved yet..."

Ah, the perfect time to influence reality!

Form the image in your mind (creative visualization) of a strong, mighty Redwood. The nasty little "Phy ram" spores are bouncing off of the mighty Redwood and smashing into smithereens on the forest floor, unable to reassemble themselves.

Now, through creative visualization, cleanse the Mighty Oak of this disease as well, sending healing energies to help The Oak's immune system recover and be strong again - strong as an Oak!.

This is a wonderful time to refresh your mind and soul with knowledge of the Tree Hierarchy. The trees of the planet are in serious trouble as conditions decline due to global warming, ozone (immune) weakness, and humankind's destruction of them in the name of greed. Logging and tree-clearance operations flourish as never before, just as the trees themselves have the least ability to recover.

The rainforests have been leveled, not only in the Amazon, but in Central America, the South Seas, Indonesia, and even Canada. The rainforests are the lungs of the planet! We need these rainforests in order to survive; we need rainforests in order to fight the greenhouse effect in which oxygen supply is depleted.

I cannot imagine humankind existing without The Tree. Trees are abiding, inspiring friends. We of the Old Ways found that trees hold wonderful, delightful intelligence and spiritual power. Tree intelligence is alien to human intelligence, somewhat, but, it is more akin to human intelligence than intelligence from an extraterrestrial source. In other words, if humans cannot learn to appreciate and communicate with - the trees of their mutual Mother Planet, what chance do humans have of adjusting to interaction with actual extra-terrestrial intelligence?

I cringe as a human murders a mighty tree with a chainsaw in a few short minutes. How callus, how ignorant, how stupid, how cruel! What must the birds and creatures who call this tree "home" - think of this human? Ah, but said human does not care because he is the lord of the Earth. How wrong he is!

Here is a sample of our Tree Hierarchy for your meditations and prayers. Seek out a tree and meditate under it. Both you and the tree will receive healing.

Birch Tree - new beginnings, pioneering spirit Ash Tree - unity, focuses energies

Oak Tree - high lord of the Tree Hierarchy, gives strength, fortitude Apple Tree - awareness to rise above confusion, fairies love apple trees

Poplar Tree - courage

Maple Tree -gives aura of good fortune around you, protects you

Pine Tree - ability to regenerate, endurance

Willow Tree - musical ability, gives the gift of dreaming

Spruce Tree - healing, mental and physical - all trees offer this, it depends on the individual tree and individual human, as to which tree will help you most

Cherry Tree - will give you insight on the truth, fairies adore it also

My friend, please save a tree and/or plant a tree. Join a group which literally buys up land before logging companies can cut the Redwoods, or another like minded environmental group. In some way, stretch out your hands to the trees of the planet which are now in serious trouble. There is more disease and deadly pests attacking them than ever before.

Stop to ponder what a miracle The Tree is. How wondrously incredible that these beings balance as they do, all limbs, branches, twigs, and leaves. How do they balance? How do they stand? How do they stand so tall, resisting high winds, rains, and severe heat and cold?! These are certainly sacred friends.

Universal blessings be yours! And see you on the other side of the night.

Taliesin

PREDICTION: ONGOING AND INCREASING THREAT OF CHEMTRAILS

This is Tibus. I come to you in love and light.

Those hatch-marks and trails you see in the skies were not there, as you know, a few years ago. They are not a natural phenomenon. These chemtrails appear almost daily in the skies over every part of the United States.

All of you have watched the contrail on a jet plane overhead. Regular contrails are sharply defined, usually formed by a plane at high altitude (at least 30,000 feet). These dissipate and then totally disappear in the matter of a few minutes.

Chemtrails are usually formed from lower flying aircraft. Often two or more planes fly parallel or in an orchestrated grid. The trails of these craft spread out over time, become blended, and often a hazy cloud forms over the area within 2 hours with only a patch or two of blue sky left.

Those on the ground often become wheezy and experience shortness of breath. All across the country (although more concentrated in a particular areas), people report that large military-type aircraft leave crossing trails which blend together and do not dissipate. The aircraft go back and forth, not flying from point A to point B. These cloud trails form a cloud cover which settles to earth.

Diane was extremely aware of these in Joshua Tree, California. While she has seen them over North Iowa, they are much less prevalent in North Iowa, perhaps because there is sparse population, thus it is not a cost effective area to spray.

For over 5 years, these reports have come in. We have human friends who have suffered, along with their families, specific breathing ailments and other illness as well. Their logic and intuition tells them that their ailments are caused by the chemtrails which are constantly "drawn" over their area.

What in the world are these planes doing? There are few answers other than, "Spewing out whatever it is which makes these long-lasting trails."

It is my psychic input to Diane that a new "formula" has been tried, and reports have verified this. There have been flu-like epidemics reported in areas where there is heavy chemtrail activity. Even more disturbing, there have been many more deaths in recent months.

The owner of a large funeral home in Dallas-Fort Worth explains that there had been twice as many deaths in February 2002 as February 2001, and that this trend was continuing. Many deaths are respiratory connected.

Is the new disease "SARS" (Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome) connected to chemtrails? There is information that it did not start in China as reported. Why do they not explain why the world population should be so frightened of SARS? The governments tell people to be afraid of it but do not explain why. A previously unheard of virus? And - what is truly the percentage of deaths per one hundred who contract SARS?

Is SARS more serious than they are telling people, or is it just the opposite: Have they made up the existence of SARS? Is it no more than a new strain of flu? Are they preparing to put people into "quarantine camps" which are really concentration camps?

First, it is not surprising that new diseases which boggle the minds of scientists, are popping up. The ozone layers of the Mother Planet are terribly weakened; virus and bacteria love the warm, moist greenhouse effect, so respiratory ailments and deaths are bound to increase for humans, as they are for other life forms on Earth. Also, super- bacteria have grown resistant to antibiotics.

Considering these factors, the evil individuals pursuing the chemtrail program are doubly guilty. And, obviously the chemtrail cloudiness would help the greenhouse effect (global warming) to speed up.

Chemtrails add dramatically to the negative atmospheric stew, for humans and animals alike. We have a friend who lost a number of cats in Spring 2002 to an unknown, deadly respiratory disease. Her sister died of a respiratory infection in late June 2002 while fighting breast cancer. Her sister's cat had died a few weeks before of the strange respiratory feline disease which defies diagnosis. Across the country, multiple deaths seem to be occurring often within one family grouping. Perhaps some houses receive a bigger chemtrail dose than others.

But what about SARS? My input is, yes, SARS is connected to the shadow government's chemtrail program. The virus was "planted" in Hong Kong but originated in America under the auspices of the New World Order. Sadly, SARS is not a lie, it is reality. The powers-that-be plan to use its existence in several ways, and one is that they do intend to have the ability to "quarantine" political dissenters. SARS is a serious new respiratory disease but it is also very similar to a serious flu bug. The need to quarantine is a smoke screen and a lie.

Are chemtrails "anti-biological warfare chemicals" being tested by the federal government? Reporter Mike Blair reported that the covert spraying is being done by the super secret Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency (DARPA), a charge which the agency's director has denied. Of course, any agency which will covertly spread an unknown, untested "anti-biological warfare agent" over the country's population has no scruples and would just as soon spread a "biological warfare agent." The prefix "anti" does not make it ok!

Is the government trying to covertly immunize the country from anthrax? Remember how sick soldiers have been when receiving the anti-anthrax vaccinations, so maybe chemtrails don't set well with some people, either.

However, the chemical composition of chemtrails was analyzed by a facility in Victoria, British Columbia, licensed by the EPA, and they found chemtrails contain JP-8 jet fuel (possibly the earner medium) but also numerous pathogens (disease causing agents). These included Pseudomonas Aeruginosa, which causes respiratory illness and also attacks the immune system, Serratia Marcescens, a resistant bacteria which causes pneumonia, endocarditis, and meningitis, and Streptomyces, and molds capable of inducing heart disease and gastrointestinal ailments.

There is a huge increase countrywide to strep and ecoli infections which are resistant to antibiotics!

The JP-8 jet fuel contains an additive, ethylene dibromide, banned as pesticide due to causing severe respiratory reactions even at low levels.

Why are so many people getting cancer? As well as SARS, what about the West Nile Fever and other respiratory outbreaks? Asthma victims have grown in number at an alarming rate. Would the government really put this toxic stew together to inoculate from anthrax (the cure is worse than the disease!) Or are there other reasons for chemtrails? Is the entire population of the United States being poisoned unknowingly by its own government while footing the bill for it?

Is a program of depopulating the United States going on? (North Iowa's sparse population therefore is not cost effective). Hard to believe, but so is 9/11 - hard to believe. The media is controlled; this huge chemtrail news story will not be told in the mass media.

(Tibus continues): There is a line in a song by the Grateful Dead, "The kids they dance and shake their bones, and the politicians throwing stones, singing ashes to ashes*, all fall down. That's all there is, we are on our own, on our own...!"

Friends, you are on your own because you no longer have a caring, decent government with a conscience. Perhaps it never was a great government, especially for some citizens (Just ask the Native Americans!), but what has happened and is happening, is unparalleled in Earth history because of the extreme power given by advanced technology. Such power has never before been at the disposal of a very few.

However, you are not "on your own" entirely because you have unconditionally loving guardians, friends, and family in the higher dimensions. And you are not alone in terms of other people on Earth; many people are aware. Goodness will prevail!

What can we advise regarding chemtrails specifically? Be aware that they are a real and a very dangerous commodity. Stay out from under them and the chemical laden cloud which settles to earth, if you possibly can. Stay indoors when they are in the sky. This is a little help but a little help may be all you need to remain unaffected (or not badly affected). Our friend who lost her sister and her cats, remains strong and healthy. Not all become sick or die.

Check first for chemtrail activity before you spend a day outdoors. Use common sense, being aware that poisonous agents are coming to earth in those strange hatch- marks in the sky.

MAY THE HEALING LIGHT OF GOODNESS SURROUND YOU, ALWAYS, TIBUS

Evolution happens literally - OVERNIGHT?

....Is This Our Salvation?

THIS IS W'VORA.

I come to you in the joy, wonder, and magic of Mother Nature.

Today, there is darkness in the land, but there is always that which shines a bright light through the darkness: Hope, love, and the spiritual knowingness to overcome. This is something deep within which no chemtrail or bully tactic or threat - can touch or destroy.

Hope, love, and knowingness are the threads which weave, even now, a new world.

It is really a simple thing, my spiritual comrades; consciousness goes bouncing around from dimension to dimension as a butterfly flits from flower to flower. It is no big deal! It may seem "too far out" sometimes from your perspective on mundane Earth because, being of a low frequency to begin with, that dimension is somewhat chained by time and "unknowingness." Almost no one there knows.

You chose your lifetime in the mundane dimension and I am positive that each one of you reading these words, chose to live in this dimension because you wished to raise its frequency, somehow, some way. Now is your time to do this!

Organized religions seek to keep people dependent on them, because if their people knew, these religions would lose power (and people). But there is nothing in the God given right to shift (change) dimensions which goes against the basic teaching of religions; it is only the control exerted by the bosses of religions which keep people from knowing.

For a shift (a step upward in dimension, a turning of the page), it usually takes the mass consciousness of the dominant species. On Earth, this means that mass human consciousness possesses the key to raising the dimension an octave. It would seem that spiritual evolution, then, is a slow process of education and growth.

However, there are "odd moments" in a planet's history when spiritual evolution is not a slow process but an overnight one. This is true in physical evolution as well; it is usually a slow process but sometimes it occurs literally, overnight. Earth's Change Times is one of those "odd moments!" What an opportunity you have!

It is not only a Creator-given right to change dimensions, it is a Creator-given responsibility to always strive upward, for better. More love, more gentleness, more compassion, more empathy, more enlightenment. Is it not the Creator Spirit itself who urges this change? What is happening now: God is seeking his/her/its way home. The Creator returns to self.

This is the warmth, the power, the love, the passion, you feel inside as you fight the darkness of these days, my friend. It is true, in order to feel these wondrous emotions inside, in order to connect to the path home, you must experience the darkness. It is the catalyst for spiritual evolution. This is the ultimate joke on the darkness and individuals who embrace it, because it is the springboard for raising the level of goodness.

The God Cloud is the Creator's way of sending you help as this process occurs. The God Cloud is indeed the cavalry charging over the hill to save the day.

But, you must care in order to evolve overnight into a better dimension. If you do not care deep in your soul, then you are stuck where you are. And "where you are" will eventually fade into oblivion because nothing stays the same. The bullies, those in power who abuse it, all who embrace the darkness of greed and violence, face doom as their dimension literally falls apart. They are simply not soulfully capable of joining the higher frequency of consciousness which sings in the next dimension we call the New Dawn.

We know that the process of spiritual evolution must include the catalyst of darkness. And we know that our Creator is sending reinforcements: the God Cloud, composed of molecules of consciousness which are of extreme purity and goodness:

A cloud of miracles! Delightfully strange how it all works out, isn't it?

Please know that you have a spiritual family. Please know that you have a guardian angel. Many people feel they do not have anyone in the higher realms, but everyone does! However, if you don't acknowledge that they exist, then they do not exist for you. You must bring this knowledge to your conscious mind - and I promise, your angels and guardians will manifest in your life!

I am W'VORA

EVOLVING EARTHQUAKES, EMERGING VOLCANOS AND THE PROPHECIES OF INNER EARTH

On February 28, 2001, Seattle experienced an earthquake which registered 6.8 on the Richter Scale. This quake was a manifestation of the increased and ever-changing earthquake activity in the Pacific Ocean and western coastline of the United States. A number of scientists have expressed concern that severe pressure is building along the shelves inside the Earth and that this western American region is "past due" for , "the really big one." Other areas of the planet also, are experiencing changing pressure on shelves and fault lines, and there is a build up of tension. This pressure must be relieved by the Mother Planet, and when she does this, there will be catastrophic earthquakes.

North America in particular has entered a new phase of earthquake activity in which quakes will become more severe. My guides assure me that this is all a part of the Change Times, and that it must become darker before the beam of light can shine through most effectively. Here is Tibus' channeling:

This is Tibus. I come to you in love and light.

Seattle's 6.8 earthquake on February 28th, 2001, serves as a warning to North America that Planet Earth has entered a more active and severe "Shift Phase" in these Change Times.

On February 26th, 2001, there was a magnitude 6.7 centered in northeastern Afghanistan which was felt in Afghanistan, Pakistan, Tajikistan, Uzbekistan, and northern India. This was Asia's warning from the Mother Planet about the new Shift Phase. In 2002 and 2003, this volatile area continued to experience a number of serious earthquakes. Western media gives little coverage to death and destruction in this corner of the world; to many Westerners, human life is far cheaper in Afghanistan than in, for instance, California. However, this area suffers almost constant mini-quakes and has had four severe quakes since 2001.

Like the Seattle quake, the Afghanistan quake of February 26, 2001, was a deep one, centered about 125 miles (200 km) beneath the surface of Earth. On the same day, 24,000 homes were destroyed by a 6.0 quake in China's Sichuan Province. This area is mountainous, inhabited mostly by ethnic Tibetans. Since then, this remote area of China has had three more serious quakes. In the past two years, other areas of China have also experienced increased earthquake activity but because the Chinese government is hesitant to allow the world to know of disasters within China, these quakes have received little or no mention in the media. As an example of China's reluctance to let the world know what is happening within China, the recent Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome (SARS) disease was not recognized by the Chinese government until it had spread to alarming proportions. The government even issued an apology for not telling the world sooner about SARS.

The sources of the Seattle and Afghanistan were extremely deep within Mother Earth. Deep quakes are troublesome because they herald shifting and instability at a very deep level. Until recently, this deep level had been less active.

In recent years, we have sent you telepathic transmissions regarding the Inner Earth dwellers such as the Tuatha De Dannan. We have told you that they will soon be forced to evacuate their subterranean homes and reestablish contact with humans. The reason for this has a great deal to do with deep level earthquake activity which is becoming very active.

They will also be driven out of their Inner Earth kingdoms due to volcanic activity which is also on the rise. The core of Earth is becoming more volatile after millennia of relative calm. You know, the spirit of Mother Earth is called "Gaia" and she is very angry at what the human race has done to her. Pollution, holes in the ozone layer, destruction of rain forests, global warming: so much damage has been done to the Mother Planet by her human child! This churning of molten gases and matter at her core level, is a way of releasing her anger and at the same time, an attempt to save herself by reforming the present structure of the planet. Be aware: Volcanic upheaval lies ahead as well!

Allow me to tell you more about your Inner Earth brothers and sisters. After all, you share the planet with them and soon you will know each other. Many Inner Earth dwellers are positive, enlightened beings, they "turned sideways to the sun" ages ago when humankind became a threat to them with its aggressive and cruel ways.

Other Inner Earth dwellers are not so positive, as written about in numerous accounts.

My friends, the enlightened tribe called Tuatha De Dannan, have explained that "Inner Earth" is another dimension but that its intersect points are indeed deep within the planet and are affected by Earth activity and changes. After all, Mother Earth exists in all earth dimensions; she is the matrix of all earth dimensions. Gaia is a powerful force in all earth dimensions.

Because the Tuatha De Dannan and other Inner Earth dwellers exist in a dimension of lighter molecules, they can pass through the thick rock of Inner Earth, moving freely and quickly in an environment which seems like solid rock and devoid of everything necessary for life.

The Tuatha De Dannan explain that their molecules are lighter than human beings; another way of saying this is that their molecules resonate to a higher frequency. This opens up a whole new vista, a new plane of existence.

What seems like solid rock on the more dense level of existence, is an inner world capable of sustaining life on their vibrational level. In places, this inner world is very beautiful. In other places, it is hostile and barren.

The Tuatha De Dannan and other positive Inner Earth dwellers, have a frequency which is harmonious with members of Space/Time Intelligence (beings such as myself - Tibus). In fact, positive Inner Earth dwellers are an integral part of Space/Time Intelligence.

Our friends in the higher realms, who are working with us in these Change Times, are not just “coming to us” from above (star ship and heaven). They are also coming to us from Inner Earth and from all around. They come to us from the deepest forests left on Earth, from the highest mountain caves, and from Inner Earth crystal-cities.

Friends, this is The Tuatha De Dannan

Greetings to all of you. You are Friends. Long ago, we were called the Sky People. We came to Earth from “the stars.” We had been star travelers for - a long time. When we discovered Earth, we knew we had found an absolute Eden, a magical, living oasis in the emptiness of space.

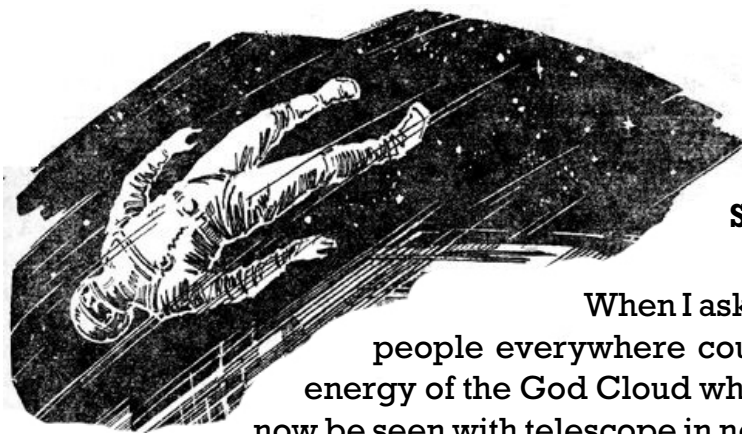

We cherished this sacred planet. We worshiped this holy ground. We settled mostly on what is now called the British Isles and Ireland. Here, our society and culture created the Old Ways of spirituality and magic, built Stonehenge, Newgrange, and other sacred stone sites, and celebrated natural mysticism. We formed the basis of what you consider the “pre-Celt culture.” The later Celts also echoed our society and culture.

We do not have room here to give our history step by step. But we were forced to move to the dimension of Inner Earth when humankind’s vibration became too barbaric, greedy, and insensitive for us to endure. Some of this negative behavior was turned toward us, but we empathized with whatever animal, tree, or being - this behavior was turned toward. We could stand it no more, and we turned sideways to the sun (invisible in Surface Earth terms).

However, with the Change Times, we have long known we would be forced to return to the surface. We are thankful that there are higher beings in human form, such as you, who will be our brothers and sisters. After all, you have been connected to us in some way for many lifetimes. Some of you have been - us. Parallel aspects (past lifetimes) of The Whole Self are a wonderful phenomenon!

We need to make this contact with you (through this transmission) because the earthquakes deep within our Mother Earth remind us that the time left for us to dwell in Inner Earth is very short. The Shift Phase has begun. We will continue contact.

In the quest, always, of wisdom, knowledge and enlightenment, WE ARE THE TUATHA DE DANNAN

THE CRYSTAL HEALING HEART: SYMBOL OF THE COMING ARRIVAL OF THE GOD CLOUD

When I asked my guides Tibus and Tesla, how good people everywhere could best connect to the radiant, pristine energy of the God Cloud which is approaching Earth, and which can now be seen with telescope in northern skies, they both answered in unison: give people a heart of crystal as our promise of the healing God Cloud. Its high level of consciousness will sweep Earth, transforming all who dwell there!

Many of the subjects covered in this book are worrisome and they will become reality in the next ten years if they have not already. But also within the next ten years, the God Cloud will begin to engulf the planet with subatomic molecules of love, integrity, peace, justice, and even magic and miracles- a total change of dimension! You must understand that your dimension is composed of subatomic molecules of consciousness and that this can be changed for the better. This reality is not written in stone; when ancient wise ones first talked of "heaven," they meant a new dimension in the same "place" as the old one, but of a heavenly vibration. A brand new world! Here is a meditation to use with your Healing Heart which will help to bring the new heavenly dimension.

Healing heart—embrace me with your love
Healing heart—I envision the God Cloud
Healing heart—I embrace the cloud of love
Healing heart—let this love enter my heart
Healing heart—radiant heart to heart
Healing heart—radiant love to love
Healing heart—radiant God love!

As I was completing this meditation, Tibus asked that I include in this book, manuscripts which have helped thousands of people throughout the years. At this time,

I am asked to make them available to as many readers as possible in the pages of this book. These manuscripts will help you through the next ten years of global catastrophe and change. They are self-help manuscripts sent to me by my guides; these contain the self help methods which higher beings use themselves; anyone who is not God needs help once in a while! Allow these tried and true manuscripts to help you - and help raise your vibration for the arrival of the God Cloud.

Quietly and unto yourself, build walls against the negativity. Allow your loving light to shine out but do not allow the compounding petty emotionalism (negativity) to come in. Simply refuse to participate or, as Jesus said, "Turn the other cheek."

Do not allow the old syndrome to touch you! And when you analyze it, an “old syndrome” is precisely what you are involved in with your life’s partner or your family member. This phenomenon may even be noticed in friendships! Though two people care for each other, they often fall into a pattern of hurting each other. Just when they feel it is “patched up”, the same pattern occurs again, one member being the offender, the other being the “hurt one”. This vicious circle hurts both people but yet humanity does not seem to see this happening! People jump into the same old hurtful situation time and time again, letting their petty emotionalism lead them as opposed to their intelligence and, more importantly, their spiritual nature.

In friendships, a bond may also be made. It is this spiritual bond which both members must “refer to” when tempted to start a negative syndrome and when a compound hurtful effect begins once again.

If your friend, partner or family member can comprehend what I have just transmitted, they may openly want to participate in stopping their contribution to making a continued negative reality. However, if they are not at a point on the Awareness Ladder where they will comprehend these words, you still can break the negative cycle yourself. One person can change the reality of a relationship by refusing to participate in the old “games” and hurtful syndromes! You are the one which must rise above the typical, tempting emotional reaction and stress instead the intelligent spirituality, the unconditional love you feel for this person personally and for this person as one of the Universe’s Children.

This is how we function in relationships, both on personal basis and on a universal basis. We have learned that love is love. It must not have stipulations or negative compounding reactions placed upon it. We have learned to love unconditionally and through this, we have found unconditional joy as well. You can do it also...this goal is within your grasp in this lifetime. You need not become an angel to function in this universal and Christ-like way!

Remember, dear reader, unless you tap into the universal God-force and the unconditional love/joy which accompanies it, you cannot expect miracles in your life. If you are attuned only to the mundane, materialistic level around you, this is the reality you will get. If you create a reality based on the brutality and spiritual bankruptcy of Earth’s civilizations do not be surprised if your reality bears no miracles.

If you feel these to be mere “pretty words”, no miracle will come to you, no higher source can reach you or help you. Remember, you are a being the cosmos just as I am. You are of the stars, the heavens... tap into that, beloved, and mystical strength, power, love is YOURS!

BEWARE: THE COMPOUNDING EFFECT!

If you could make use of one of our view screens for a few moments, you would quickly comprehend the “compounding effect”. You would be viewing humanity as it exists the lack of this complicated compounding negativity would be evident only serene innocence and simplicity of the lifeforms and creatures so close to the Universal Natural Force (the God-force). Otherwise, humanity adds compound negative upon compound negative, burying himself in the process.

We have already used the example of the partner who, hurt by the infidelity of the other, drives while totally wrapped up in the negative reaction and hurts self and child. However, this is a relatively simple “compound effect” compared to others existing today on planet Earth, including those in your own life!

You must gain a control over yourself and the given situation so that this effect ceases!

The most infamous and outstanding example of the negative “compounding effect” is in humanity’s current “overkill” status with nuclear weapons. One side adds a weapon, the other adds it also, plus another new weapon. The first side must then add the “new” weapon, and so on. Humans also do this in everyday life and, strangely, they often do it to those they profess to love most.

If there is an “error” by one in the family circle, he or she usually “hears about it”. This is acceptable and perhaps helpful, but then the matter must be dropped and the offending person must be given the chance to start a new, positive day. If the offending person keeps hearing about the mistake, he or she can never start a new day, can never find the good and innocent child within the self. If the mistake which has been made is, for instance, indulging in the chemical substance alcohol, then the offending person may be driven back to that substance if not allowed to begin his or her “new day”. The matter must be dropped. Otherwise, the compounding effect is much more damaging than the original mistake!

If you will please move your perspective back (put yourself in an orbiting starship with a view screen if you would like), you will see how you have compounded negativity around you or how someone close to you continues to do this to you, causing untold damage in your life path.

If someone is working a compounding negative effect upon your life, reminding you of past errors without giving you your rightful “new day”, then it is your responsibility to yourself to get free of this reality.

This does not mean that you must leave your family or drastically change the physical situation. What it does mean is that you will refuse, within yourself, to participate in compounding effects and negative realities. You will not be the one to add the next layer of mistrust and hurt and you will not allow the other person to do this to you, either!

COMPULSIVE BEHAVIOR: A PITFALL

Compulsive behavior is one of the largest pitfalls of living on 20th Century Earth.

By compulsive behavior, I mean addiction or near-addiction to alcohol, cigarettes, drugs (though possibly medically prescribed) and even behaviors which one knows lead to no success but which one repeats over and over again (example: going to bars in order to find a short-term partner, all the while knowing this to be an act which leads to more trouble than satisfaction).

My brethren and I wish desperately that we could offer you a “magic formula” for breaking compulsive behaviors. The miracle must come from inside... from self. Again, it is only when one keys into the God-flame in self that God’s miracles may enter. However, you may be surprised to know that we understand the frustrations which lead to compulsive behaviors. We do not condemn these things! We do recognize them as “evils” to the person indulging in them; sadly, others are often hurt by these pitfalls also (innocent bystanders, particularly the family).

It is not easy to live on Earth* Frankly, the nuclear threat in itself is enough to “drive one to drinking”. It is here that inner strength must overtake one and block out the urge to indulge in a behavior which is “stupid”, which leads to addiction or negatives.

When you embark on a compulsive behavior, would you continue if you could be handed a “road map” of your life further down the road? Would you stick to your negative habit if you could see the far-reaching hurt to yourself and others?

If you smoke, would it be as inviting if you could see yourself undergoing chemotherapy, the 1984 treatment for cancer?

If you drink, would you care to graphically be shown in great detail, a car accident which your drinking will cause in your future?

We do not state these facts in a high-handed manner. We do not “preach” them at you as hypocritical religionists. We merely state the truth.

Money is wasted, spiritual/intellectual potential is wasted, the life-force is wasted. Yes, it is a “sin before God” to waste such precious commodities. However, the wrongdoing is toward the self, ultimately...and the self is all you have. Your mind/soul stays with you; your unique essence stays with you...throughout life after life. To dampen it with compulsive behavior is indeed a shame. You are much too beautiful for that!

Are we “perfect” in reference to these subjects? No, we are not perfect but we have learned throughout many millions of years that the compulsive behaviors mentioned above are dampeners of our life-force, keep us from our full potential and that we can overcome these urges through our spirits and our intelligence. Take my hand, allow me to tug you up the mountainside.. .cast away your compulsive, negative habit! You do NOT need it! From our “perch” on the mountainside, we have found that a return to the childhood of one’s present lifetime is often an extremely helpful process in meditation. Seat yourself in a darkened room in a comfortable position (either stretch out or sit comfortably; do not worry about meditative formality for this process).

Now visualize yourself out in nature as a child. You had a favorite “nook”; this is where your mind should return! Remember yourself picking daisies or dandelions, remember yourself swinging high and free, remember yourself petting a small furry animal. Go to great lengths to find a specific memory and literally relive it!

Next, superimpose on that lovely child which you once were (and still are!) the dampening negative habit which you now have, be it smoking, drinking, drugs, being a slave to physical urge, even continuing on with a negative relationship which should have been sent to oblivion long ago. Is it a grave sadness that this fresh, innocent child is now so tangled in “adult” problems, habits, syndromes? Would you have wished this for the self? Would you have wanted your current “adult” reality for your. Higher Self, either? Remember that your Higher Self (we prefer to say Whole Self) travels from lifetime to lifetime for it is the eternal God-spark. Are you contributing to the Whole in your current lifetime? Are you living up to the beautiful potential which existed in that innocent child which you once were (and can be again!)?

The negative experiences which you have had, the bad things which have happened to you...are something which yourself as Child could not and should not comprehend. In your meditation, bring yourself back to being that wondrous Child. Erase the many negatives, the slave syndromes, the bad habits. Find the Child in yourself once again! Do the best you can do, be the best you can be...and do it for the sake of the Self. Do it for the still-beautiful Child within you!

The overt negative habits or syndromes are but a symptom of something much deeper which troubles your soul: somewhere within you the Child is crying, lonesome, hurt...and wondering why the current lifetime did not work out as childhood dreams predicted. Somewhere within you the Whole Self screams to have the full potential actualized. You are angry that this has not come to pass and angry at Self that you have not been able to make it come to pass.

At this time, let that frustration and anger out. Send it to cosmic oblivion. Take a deep breath and allow the true self, the Child...to awaken again within you. Stop all habits which hurt the Child. Remove all barriers to reaching full potential, to actualizing your Whole Self as it has existed for Ages and as it will exist in The Future.

It is your obligation to the God-spark within to do the best you can to help the Child within, to reach out to the highest star, the fullest potential. To do less (as you have been) is wrong to yourself and to the God-force.

A relationship in the mundane world can be near-perfection if each partner has mastered self-help (thus harmony with self through spiritual intelligence) and universal awareness/sensitivity to the partner.

I am anxious to guide people who seek this harmony in this way, with this goal.

It is very difficult to achieve this because the world around you constantly fights against this seeking of perfection. The strain of the monetary system in itself is enough to wreck a relationship. "Money worries" have driven countless well-meaning partners apart.

In this sense, my Brothers and Sisters of Space (and I) have it easy! In making a more balanced, harmonious, loving reality (our level of consciousness on the mountainside), we have rid ourselves of such falsities as money, the status quo, status seeking...and other similar negatives.

What is the answer for loving partners whose relationship remains more positive than negative? This relationship struggles to survive in the mundane world and makes it! What a beautiful and strong relationship it is!

It is strongly suggested that this relationship be formalized into a cosmic bond! In other words, recognize the beautiful energy, the Oneness, which exists independent of either partner singularly. The bond is the Instrument through which you will seek harmony, balance, near perfection for your special relationship. The bond will enhance your self-help techniques, making them work as the years pass.

The foundation for self-help is not to be ruled by petty emotionalism! Feelings are a beautiful thing and a direct conduit to Divine Energy; however, when we speak of emotionalism we speak of the unintelligent, insensitive, unthinking actions which empty the human vessel, weaken the human spirit. Petty, negative emotionalism only drains and dampens the positive energies which are naturally attracted to all life.

Of course when one lives in the mundane world, it is healthy to vent emotions! We would never recommend stifling all anger and frustration!

However, allow me to give you an example in which balance is not achieved. Healthy venting of frustrations gives way to petty emotionalism in this example and great harm is the result:

One partner hurts the other through infidelity. The hurt, sensitive partner vents honest anger, frustration, pain. This syndrome continues until the hurt partner at last puts the couple's child in the car and, in a fit of anger, leaves. Due to the preoccupation with the hurt (we might even say, due to being possessed by the relationship's negative energy entity...), the hurt partner drives recklessly and injures self and child in an auto accident.

Was the fault with the partner who was untrue in the first place?

It is irrelevant!

After the initial anger, hurt, frustration which was permissible and normal, the hurt partner should have taken positive steps at self-help in order to gain control of the negative energies which were now flowing much too freely.

If self-help at harnessing these negatives could have been achieved, the hurt partner might have been able to then help the offending partner. Even more importantly, he or she would definitely been able to help self! The hurt partner became a slave to the negativism, eventually physically hurting self and child.

This is perhaps an understandable and forgivable obsession (being a slave in the negative situation) but what good does "understanding", "forgiving" or even "pity" do for the hurt partner...who grows more, and more hurt? These qualities are admirable (to feel pity, etc.) but they are small compensation for the negative situation which has been created (perhaps even eventual death as in the case of an auto accident caused by emotionalism which is out of control).

The level at which humanity dwells on the mountain is one which is overly involved with revenge, with "straightening out" others for whom love is felt, with a myriad of negative emotions caused through not doing unto others as we would have them do unto us.

What should the hurt partner have done in the example above? After venting honest and natural negative emotions, he or she should have consciously struggled above the negative emotions which still ravaged all concerned. This would have been a terrible struggle because when a being is hurt, it is very very hard to "control". However, though it would have been the greatest struggle on the individual's life, he or she should have gained self-help, self-control over the rampaging emotions. This does not mean, sadly, that the pain would have gone away (however, the chances would have been better that it would have than by sticking to the rampaging petty emotions).

Once the self had been worked with, calmed, loved...the hurt partner would, as objectively as possible, examine the relationship and the erring partner: had the infidelity happened again? Is the infidelity if indeed it does happen again, at all acceptable to the partnership? In other words, does the hurt partner still want the offending partner regardless of the offenses against him or her? This is not a healthy relationship in such event but it might be a reality in the mundane dimension.

Self-help in such a case is exactly that: talking to self, using the upmost intelligence, love, spirituality on self, reaching from self to Self (Higher Self) for guidance and strength (and of course, in this way reaching God-Force as well). The gravest mistake which can be made is to become the slave of a negative relationship; this can be as damaging as the mundane conception of possession by a demonic entity.

A word here should be said about the frightening negative energy cycle set in motion by the partner who was unfaithful. When the infidelity was performed, the partner thought of the shame of breaking the marriage vow.

However, his or her awareness was not of sufficient level to possibly comprehend or feel the much further-reaching negative effects set into motion. Some guilt was felt at breaking the "thou shalt not..." but it was not sufficient to stop the erring partner. His or her sensitivities were dull and selfish; ultimately, they were not even selfish for the erring partner hurt self as well.

We of Space feel that the "thou shalt not's..." are too narrow. We believe and know simply that THOU SHALT NOT HURT THE OTHER.

For the partner who was hurt, there must be serious and soulful consideration as to whether such a dull and spiritually unfeeling person is preferable to continue along life's path with.

It may well be that the answer is, "Yes." However, if it is, "No," there must be action taken to break from the relationship. Due to monetary pressures, this is not always simple. However, the thing which must be avoided at all costs is falling into a negative cycle, of becoming a slave to a negative syndrome (being hurt, lashing out, dwelling in the hurt, lashing out again, being hurt again, etc.).

Never lose sight of your POTENTIAL to be the best you can be. The POTENTIAL for the human race is beautiful and overwhelming; so it is for each individual. First there must be the letting-go-of-the-slave-syndrome, the exorcism of petty, negative emotionalism, the freeing of the mind/soul/intelligence so as it may continue to travel its free path. No being should be caught in a negative trap and not allowed to move on up the Awareness Ladder!

An animal caught in a cruel trap cannot free itself. However, a human being has the skills to do so, no matter how painful or difficult. It is one's duty and obligation before God to be the best you can be, to strive toward full potential, to move on up the mountain (at your own pace!) instead of going in circles on the lower slopes or moving to the base, brought low by the "slave syndrome".

There is a final question on the subject of relationships which we must ask; it is a question which may hurt those sensitive partners who are the "hurt ones" In the first place, but we must do so!

If the partner has a habit such as indulgence in alcohol (even alcoholism), then to what extent do you battle it? Do you plead, argue, battle with the troubled partner while your child goes down the street, bored, unloved, restless, lonely...and becomes mixed up with peers who are not good influences?

Do you battle the problem with the troubled partner until that partner is .so numb to your pleadings that there is no hope of reaching him or her? Who is creating the greater negative? Your partner...or you?

In this case, there are two negative cycles at work: the partner's problem and your dwelling in it. Do you see the self-perpetuating negativism? Do you see the far-reaching affects it has, even on one's own child?

The answer is either to seek drastic change and remove oneself from the situation or, if it is worth saving, to reach for the bond, the higher entity which has been created by the relationship. Both you and your partner must turn to spiritual intelligence and gentleness in order to stop hurting each other. With the bond, walking in the other person's shoes is much easier! You will both reach for the One which you were and still are... you must stop hurting each other, however inadvertently. For to hurt the other is to hurt the Self.

And so, unless these concepts can be understood, I do not channel through to those having personal relationship problems. I do not aim this as an insult to their intelligence for very "smart" people get caught in negative "slave" syndromes. However, there is no way they can be reached if the static of the enslavement is dominant in their life.

In other words, if someone writes Diane about a certain person who has ruined their lives by doing this or that to them...and proceeds to say how desperately they want this person back into their lives...I can do them no good by channeling through.

And, in addition, I must add that no other being can ruin your life-force. That is a power only of the self and it is a responsibility of the self unto the Self not to do!

However, if another person writes Diane stating that they have had many hurtful years on the personal basis but that they are now seeking new answers and realizing the potential they have been wasting...then there is so very much I can help them with!

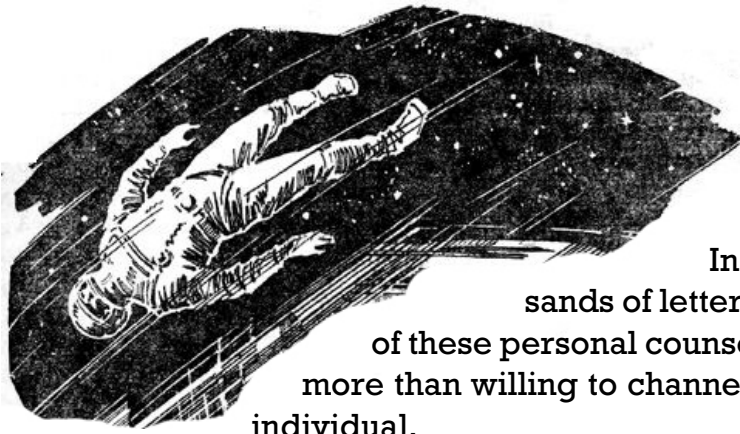

The point is, the self in "self-help" is not there to simply take up space!

One must be able to at least see one's situation in perspective and to at least want something better, want to take a step on the Awareness Ladder.

If a miracle is to take place, the self must participate! The self must reach The Self, the God-spark...must enter the energy channel to God before the God-Energy can flow back in return, performing miracles.

This is a truth not only in dealing with relationships and loves but also in dealing with health concerns, bad habits, a lack of mastery of the mundane financial world, and the nagging emptiness of personal unfulfillment/the failure to reach full potential in spiritual terms.

Remember always that exploring inner space leads to contact with "outer space" the Higher Realms. If there is no inner exploration, no perspective, no striving...there is no path up the mountain!

MUNDANE LOVE AND COMPLICATED RELATIONSHIPS

In recent times, Diane has received thousands of letters requesting help or guidance. On some of these personal counseling/reading/channeling requests, I am more than willing to channel through to her with information for the individual.

In other requests, I say to Diane, "You are on your own, kid!"

For a while, she did not understand what the difference was between these requests; she felt that to be equal, I should channel through for all people in need. She "argued" with me that those who seemed less-aware should be those to whom I offered special help. Instead, these were the people I had little information for.

The people I cannot help - but whom she has hope of helping - are those who write many pages about one other individual who has hurt them, ruined their life, whom they must, nonetheless, "get back again".

Now, it is good and well to talk out an unsuccessful and hurtful relationship and in this way, set that energy free to return to the cosmic oblivion where it belongs. It is quite another to center all precious life energies around a relationship which was obviously negative for all concerned in the first place!

It is a phenomenon of human emotion that, at first, a relationship is often a beautiful thing. However, because one or both involved do not have a good grasp of self-help or basic goodness and decency, the relationship deteriorates. Reality becomes jaded for both or (usually) one of those involved. While one partner may readily move off in other directions, the sensitive partner remaining "behind" cannot let go of the original beauty of the relationship (or what was perceived by the mind/soul as beauty).

Not letting go of the relationship leads to a preoccupation and fetish with what was but IS NO MORE. Indeed, one may argue that "it" never was there at all but was a beautiful illusion due to the human need for LOVE.

The truly negative aspect ensues when the sensitive partner who cannot "let go" starts pouring all sorts of energies into the now-stagnant relationship. The majority of these energies are negatives (jealousy, regret, depression, attempts at seduction, etc.). Even though the basic love was a positive, it becomes jaded, corrupted, and a negative in itself.

At this point we remind you that we do not view "mundane love and complicated relationships" as an inferior energy...for to LOVE on any level, in any dimension, is beautiful. Your mind/soul are a part of the reality around you and it would not be realistic to expect you to love in an angelic way without the pitfalls of mundane level love.

However, to gain a mastery, an overview, a perspective on what is happening....tugs you up the mountainside of self-help and Awareness.

At times I will not channel through to help an individual if there is no hint of a beginning of willingness to gain perspective. If self- help and ultimately a heightening Awareness is not truly wanted, my position on the mountainside cannot help this individual. He or she first needs a hand from Diane who does live in the mundane world and who has experienced more recently the negatives (for there was a time in her life when she also held to a relationship which had turned from the illusion of first-beauty to the negative of stagnation due to a change on the part of the partner). She has more recently than I lived through this “landmark” on the lower slopes of the mountain and has managed to struggle to a new and “higher” perspective. She is therefore better equipped to guide the lost soul who cannot let go of a relationship turned to the negative.

If the individual seeking guidance has a grasp of unconditional love (cosmic love) and can see the relationships in his or her life in intelligent, spiritual perspective, then my energies are not wasted and I happily channel information and guidance to that individual.

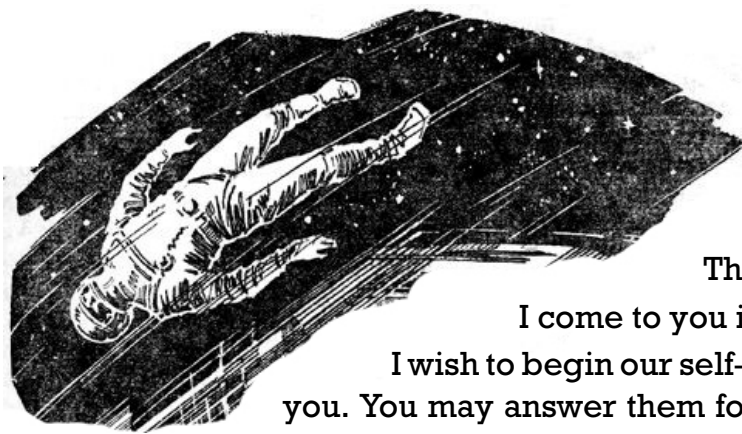

Do we Brothers and Sisters of Space love on a personal basis as well, as in an unconditional way (love of life, humankind, all cosmic beings, love of the universe, etc.)? Yes, we do. I have told you that I am not sitting on the peak of the mountain! We also chose companions, soulmates, bondmates. Are we perfect in this love? Do we not make mistakes, do we not hurt the other, etc.?

From a perspective on mundane Earth, our relationships with each other might seem perfect for we have mastered self-help and Universal Awareness more than the Earth has. However, I repeat that we are not God.

Therefore, I may reach Diane successfully because I have “been there” and I still struggle. Therefore, we are offering you our own self-help techniques and wisdom for you can use them as well and successfully as we do!

In self-help, especially when dealing with a relationship which has gone “sour”, one must gain a mastery of it. If the remains of the relationship rule the individual, all is lost. In essence, you are then being ruled and even possessed by a negative entity.

Did you know that a relationship does create an energy entity which is a being within itself? This is a beautiful universal phenomenon: the making of One from two, the blending of two souls into a greater union (the sura being greater than the parts). It is this concept which creates the bond which many of we Space Beings share with each other; this is a bond which transcends Space/Time. ‘However, a relationship turned to the negative also can create an entity if intense enough. If the sensitive partner who dwells in the relationship puts negative energies into that relationship (jealousy, brooding, etc.), it increases the energies of the entity. This entity can literally possess the sensitive partner.

TIBUS: A PRELUDE

Dear Seeker,
This is Tibus.

I come to you in Love and Light.

I wish to begin our self-help manuscript with some questions for you. You may answer them formally or you may whisper the answers within your own being, leaving them casual or mere "hints" of the full answer. However, do yourself the favor of beginning an answer, of setting an energy in motion ....which, by the end of the manuscript, will take a positive, solid direction that will be a great help to you in the future. To paraphrase another space-goer, the direction of your answers will be a "giant leap" for yourself and ultimately for humankind!

Again I stress that this manuscript is a personal one. The topics are still spiritual but my brothers, sisters and I want this manuscript to be of help in the everyday mundane world...and so we speak of daily, mundane concerns (which is rare for us!). We feel this is urgent and necessary at this time!

1. Have you fully embraced the fact that your mind/soul not only perceives the reality around you but also participates in that reality? In other words, your mind creates your reality to a larger degree than 1984 Humanity possibly suspects. For example, if you stare at a picture on the wall your mind/soul tells you it is there. However, if you leave the room and no other mind is in the room to perceive the picture, how can you prove the picture exists? Does it still exist? Must not a mind/soul participate in the reality of the picture if it is to exist?

2. Do blatant physical needs, urges, longings rule your life? To be in human form is to have these needs and they are not "bad" as such. However, when they are allowed to rule a mind/soul, there is spiritual stagnation. Do you know how to redirect your beautiful energies so that these needs and urges do not rule your life, leading you down many wrong paths? The energy involved is dynamic and wonderful, you need only use your spiritual mind as well as your intellectual mind! And, do not be ruled by your glands!

3. Is your physical body plagued with illnesses and mishaps? It is not our belief that you are a "chronic" sufferer but rather that the reality around you is poisonous to you .making you react negatively in many physical ways. Do you know how to rechannel these physical negatives (ill health, etc.) into positive energies? It can be done and you can do it!

4. Is money a constant worry, hassle, and source of anger for you? The mundane world functions around finances and I cannot tell you how stupid we find this to be! Many Ages ago, we escaped the slavery of a similar silly money system. However, it is not your fault that you are trapped in it and it is not your fault that you cannot get on top of It! We will show you how to manipulate the "low energies" of the financial system and make them work for you so as you may further a your spiritual enlightenment.

Do you find yourself caught in a web of personal relationships with family and friends? We know that you love these people deeply but often it seems their relationship is “all take” and “no give”. In being a Seeker, you are also a giver. You are usually in the middle of a concentric circle with energies pulling you in all directions. You often give into others to simply make them happy. You often deny yourself and your spiritual needs in order to please those you care for. This is not a fault!! This is a strength which you possess; however, we will show you how to “refuse to play the game”, how to refuse to be manipulated, and how to rechannel these relationships for the betterment of all concerned. Just as I am teaching you, dear ones, you must teach those around you....to value themselves and to make more positive realities for all—including you!

6. Do you often feel alone? Be proud of this fact and learn to live with it, make it work for you. The mundane world is a very cruel, narrow place and the fact that you do not fit in is a distinct compliment to you!

Do you think that I or my brothers and sisters would fit in, either? Do you think that an angelic being, for instance, would find Earth a pleasant, friendly, helpful place? Or would that angel feel alone?

Your inner difference is a strength, beloved, not a weakness. You must reassess your feelings on yourself and revel in the beauty within yourself!

To be alienated from the world such as it is in 1984 is not a negative sign!

Remember that the greater the capacity for self-help, the higher one has traveled on the Awareness Ladder. If a person cannot help him or her self under— stand and cope with the world around, then the path is hopeless. You must be able to “deal” with yourself first...and then tackle the world. In viewing the sad cases of criminals or those in mental institutions, we may see that the capacity for self-help and understanding was not there. Consequently, these poor souls went “wild”, acting without spiritual or intellectual self-guidance.

Now turn this example to the total positive. Jesus Christ possessed such a miraculous understanding of Self and of all other Selves in the world that He created a beautiful Light which yet shines today! One must help oneself first before one can go out in the world and help others to the degree of a Mother Teresa or a Francis of Assisi. It is in exactly this frame of mind/soul that we Brothers and Sisters of Space attempt to help humankind. It is this frame of mind/soul into which you must enter, must find the key, dear reader. Once self-help is achieved and there is happiness, contentment, and the ability to cope with SELF, then you may find the fulfillment of helping others. Without this key, others may ask you for help or even cling to you for help...but you cannot give it as you should! Compounding frustrations are the result.

This self-help book promises to be totally unique. Why? Because it is a manuscript which discloses to you, the reader, the self-help which our “super-being” Brothers of Space and the Higher Realms use to help themselves as well as helping others (you!).

One item should be cleared up: the Beings of the Higher Realms consider themselves equals to us, not our “superiors”! It is true that they are loving beings who are much higher on the Awareness Ladder than we are, but allow me to ask you an analogous question:

Do you consider yourself an utterly superior lifeform to, for instance, the primitive peoples of Africa? Do you feel hopelessly above the Australian Aboriginal peoples?

Or do you value the life force of all humanity? Do you cherish the life force of all creatures, large and small? Is this life force sacred unto you just as your own life force is sacred unto you? Do you consider the life force a flame which should never be judged or extinguished?

Now you know how our loving Brothers feel.

Some of us live in more technically advanced societies. Others of us live in more spiritually awake groupings (these two categories do not necessarily overlap!). However, all humanity and all LIFE is of equal worth before God! Being of God and of Goodness, our Brothers in Space possess this precious wisdom of equality, balance, joy in diversity, tolerance and sensitivity, when relating to other life forms.

Do you know how helpful it is to find a friend who has been through the same problems you are currently having? If this friend has successfully overcome his or her problem, he or she can be an Invaluable helpmate in assisting you successfully through your turmoil.

This is exactly the way it is with the “super-beings” who want to help you and who are willing to share their “secrets” of self-help with you. There is only one God; they do not claim to be God! They are beings of God who have learned much wisdom throughout the Cosmic Ages and who want desperately to help humanity in this troubled time, this time of growth and change.

Many channelings deal with global-based concerns (nuclear hazards, environmental concerns, etc.). However, this book will deal with personal help for you as an individual. Remember that the Brother of Space who is to be your guide has “been there” (where you are now). He has climbed the Awareness Ladder 1 and learned through The Ages...developed, grown, become more and more a Being of God...just as you will! He is not “perfect” for perfection is the God-state-of-being; instead your guide in this manuscript offers his hand to you from his “elevated” position on up the mountainside. He is in closer proximity to the God-Force, so loving and perfect, and yet he can reach down the slope to help you along also. He is within distance of your Awareness Level and wishes to pull you on up the mountainside!

And who is this guide who wishes to share the “secrets” of self-help which the Higher Realms discovered and refined to great energies of goodness and personal change throughout the Ages?

He is Tibus, my “special one”. Details of our shared consciousness, ongoing encounters, and continued enhanced contact and channelings... may be found in my book, THE TRANSFORMATION. Suffice to say that Tibus is one of the Brothers out in Space of the Higher Realms. His mission is to work with the people on Earth who seek enlightenment and a Great Change for the Better on this planet. He is one of the catalysts of a new, future consciousness which will put an end to war, greed, suffering, cruelty on our small orb called “Terra”.

In addition, Tibus’ special mission has been and will continue to be a very personal one of interaction with those who are open to contact, to enlightenment, to new thoughts and change. More than anything, he wishes to soften the “bumps” along the way for those seeking a cosmic consciousness, to offer a kind of therapy and way-station where the weary universal traveler can rest and seek additional strength and self-help before going back out into unfeeling, materialistic, shallow mundane world.

A cornerstone to building a new, more positive personal life with the aid of this manuscript is to remember all threats to planet Earth and within each personal life are the result of the human mind! First consider the nuclear threat .which hangs over this planet: has it been created entirely by man's misuse of his mind/intelligence? Is it prolonged due to this energy also? Of course it is! Humans use their intellect but fail to temper it, blend it, with goodness/spiritual qualities! Now consider problems, hassles, stresses within your personal life: are they directly attributable to either your state of mind or another person's negative mind which interacts with your reality? Even financial misfortunes can be traced to having at some point given into a negative mind/person!

The solution is simple: we must change our consciousness on planet Earth or perish. We must personally explore our own inner consciousness for this is a healthy sign and, whether you realize it or not, sets the wheels of change into motion for the better!

Energies ebb and swell...flowing much like the tide of a great ocean. Many people spend a lifetime (many lifetimes!) never realizing this. One must ride the cosmic wave, be in The Flow, and allow the energies to work for you in goodness and love. And now to specifics. Tibus is your guide... allow him to take you on a "super-beings" tour of the starlit ocean and give you the benefit of Ages of learning on self-help and improvement!

LOVE AND LIGHT AND....PEACE!

CYCLES OF PAIN CYCLES OF JOY

The Ancients knew about the Cycles of Life and the transition called Death. The Ancients knew that energies flow in Cycles just as surely as water flows in a mighty river.

The Ancients were also in contact with angelic beings; the Bible and other holy books are channeled messages of their days. The “ancient astronauts”, as we were called in those days, started humankind down a wise and cosmic path. However, by forgetting the Ancient Knowledge and through egotizing his religion/spirituality, humankind has strayed from very crucial and basic knowledge which he must regain!

The most urgent of the lost wisdom is the Energy Flow/Cycle knowledge.

Humankind must know this in an internalized, natural manner...and yet, he no longer knows this in even an external. Intellectual way. He has lost much which must be regained!

This knowledge may be applied to all facets of the universe! However, the most obvious area of application is to each individual’s personal physical, mental, and spiritual health.

Have you entered your physical body into a Cycle of Pain from which it cannot escape? You must know that your mind/spirit rules the vessel which you call your physical body. Your mind/spirit can cause much trouble, illness, accidental injury for your physical body.

You may say that you do not wish yourself ill and so you do not knowingly do these things to yourself. No, this is not conscious, beloved. However, even the dreaded cancer disease is often caused through negative energies washing against the physical body day after day, year after year. Like a great rock, it eventually wears away with centuries of pounding.

Accidents can also be caused by the subconscious mind’s refusal to protect the physical body. The subconscious has begun to long for a “greener valley”, for a higher dimension and so it knowingly lets the guard down, allowing a “silly” accident to happen.

The answer to this is to reach for a higher spiritual plane consciously in your current lifetime so that the subconscious (we call it the supra-consciousness) is not so frustrated, not so impoverished spiritually. You must “reverse the orbit” of the Cycle of Pain you continually create for yourself (though it does not seem you are doing this to yourself) and allow the energies to “orbit” in the opposite, positive direction...creating a Cycle of Joy!

In the next chapter, we will further explore good physical, mental, spiritual health and the great healing gift which all higher beings possess.

Like an unused muscle, this gift is not used and so you do not realize you have it, beloved. You and you may use it to first help yourself.. .and then to help others who are less-aware!

HEALING: THE FORGOTTEN SELF-HELP MIRACLE

Do you ever get the feeling that you would like to take ten minutes to sit down and talk with yourself, perhaps even hold yourself in your arms (figuratively) and talk to yourself as an old and wise friend?

Do not ever hesitate to do this, dear reader, in meditation, in moments of sorrow or introspection or simply to gain renewed energy to face yet another day.

The mundane world teaches children that one should not talk to oneself—<sup>a</sup> How foolish is this practice! Talking to the self and...the Self...is the handiest and most-sure way of keying into the intuitive conduit which leads to the God-force. Also in this way, self-healing is attained and achieved. To shallowly pronounce that anyone who “talks to himself” is “crazy” is indeed a grave error on the part of civilization.

We do not mean that you should walk down a crowded city street talking non— sense to yourself. Rather, you should know how to reach the inner self, to use self as best friend, comforter, physician, if necessary.

Now, it is all very true that the Self does not exist in a vacuum! When you reach Self, you also reach God. Of course prayer is a mighty “weapon” and is the twin brother of reaching Self and helping Self.

You must realize that your Self is Christed, that Self is a part of the universal God-force which is Life itself! Your self is not a separate entity in the universe but is rather a part of the larger Whole. You must know how to reach and work with Self...and this will provide the key to countless other worlds, higher dimensions, provide a direct line to the God-force, open your life for miracles and the positive use of the Energy Flow.”

Your self-healing gift comes through this same channel, in fact, this channel.

No human would deny that the mind can cause physical ailments which manifest as real, which are real. There should be no doubt, then, that the mind/soul can also cure the physical body or - even better - not allow the physical body to be dragged into negative energy (illness, injury, etc.). It is easier, it seems, to fall into the negative cycle than the positive one simply because the dimension around you is often negative. In an effort to combat it, the mind/soul takes frustrations out on...takes action against...the physical body which is a part of the negative reality surrounding the mind/soul (or so it is perceived). What you must do is to make your entire being (mind/soul and physical body) a part of a higher reality! In this way, the mind/soul find * fulfillment and serenity. The physical body is viewed as a precious vessel which must be kept in excellent condition. The entire perception changes! Though the dimension around you may still be the negative mundane one, your precious energy is no longer a part of it! Of course you still function in it, perform a job, etc., but your spirit is free and is in contact with the higher dimensions from which come its strength and its very life.

We who are on up the mountainside work with ourselves in this way. We have found that the more one keys into the God-force, the more one learns to shut out negativity.. .the more easy it becomes. You see, the negatives are sieved out, becoming fewer and fewer.

And so, the process becomes easier; the hardest part is the initial “weeding out” process.

Specifically, in healing the self (a diseased or damaged area of the physical body), you must first purify your energies, eliminating negatives. Set the Cycle in motion in the positive orbit!

Get in delicate contact with your self and with Self (the Whole Being) . This means that you must feel your very life force as it has existed in all lifetimes (we prefer to call them parallel aspects of your Whole Self). Your soul is beautiful and unique; you must reach it, talk with it, allow it to help “you” (the person who exists on 20th Century Earth) .

You must also pray...or, if you prefer, simply feel the mighty presence of the Universal God. If you want to pray specifically, that is excellent also. In other words, once the Self (the unique and ageless essence which is uniquely you) has been contacted, connect that beautiful energy to the God- force . We stress to you that the formality or exact method of prayer/ meditation is not important. Do it in the personal way which is right for you.

Now, fix your concentration on the damaged or diseased area of the body. If you have a headache or something more serious...this method will work if your mind/soul can gain enough power, can connect to the God-force.

Radiate/spread the healing energies from God-force to Whole Self, through your present mind...onto your troubled area. Do this in full communion with yourself and with God. Experience the feeling of resurrection, rebirth of not only the troubled area but of the entire, timeless essence of you.

If an individual can tap in clearly and “innocently” enough, healing can occur in one session. However, many sessions may be needed. Remember, simply begin them by “talking to self”, by getting into contact/communication with the self you knew in childhood, with the Self which connects to the Divine Energy pipeline.

Your problems, both mental and physical, may be complex ones though not debilitating. This is caused by the many years you have lived in the mundane reality...for its negativities have added up! Work with yourself whenever possible, allow the mind to be explored by self and find the many mystical wonders there. Instead of following a formal meditation, experiment with what works best for you...to do this, remember the quiet times of childhood in the special “nook” out in nature. Do it as you did it then.

Through these explorations of inner space, you will find the key to allowing universal Godly energy to enter you, heal you, perform miracles. _ S Begin to stress the spiritual in your life and the mundane damages will begin to be healed. Do not let the mundane reality poison you!

THE PURIFYING PROCESS

Do you know how you feel after spending a quiet day in nature?

This happens all too seldom for you, but when you have had the privilege of communing with the natural energies for a length of at least several hours, there is an inner warmth, a pleasant fatigue, a deep serenity. This is the state of mind/soul for which you must strive and you must learn to achieve this through drawing on your own resources. You cannot always run out into nature and, besides, being a child of the universe, you have the same power within as Nature does. When you can reach this universal place within yourself, then the “purifying process” is a simple matter.

The “purifying process” is all-important, dear reader. Whether you are breaking a negative energy syndrome or healing self (or another), you must know how to rid the being of mundane hassles, worries, energies... and zero in on the eternal cosmic energy within yourself. The spirit* must be yours...to reach at will.

We have spoken of taking time to talk to self once again, a wonderful process which you have not done formally since childhood. We have spoken of connecting the self to the Higher Self (Whole Self). This includes considering past lives you have lived; this includes looking into The Future of planet Earth and the uniqueness that is you. Finally, the frequency is raised past the Whole Self to the God-force. At last there is a steady, free-flowing, powerful energy flowing directly into you!

Do not be too conscious of the process. In other words, if you can spare a day to join consciousness with Nature, then the process will happen automatically, subconsciously/supraconsciously. The major “trick” is to hold the energy and not lose it as mundane pressures set in again upon your return. Often one can feel oneself “slipping” after a wondrous day in rapture...as soon as one walks in the door of the house!

We also experience these problems for we have many concerns and areas of intense concentration. As you know, we are involved in guiding planet Earth toward a brighter new day. Therefore, we give you our secrets, our methods....for keeping energy purified and at optimum strength!

Again, do not try too hard to consciously purify for this will cause further frustration. This particular process is not one which lends itself to formal rituals; instead, the most informal, beloved, personal friend you have ever had must be reached: that friend is the Self! Of course we extend this one step further to the ultimate life force, the God-force. For is not this friend also your greatest one? LIFE Is yours! LIFE is your friend and constant companion! You are well-acquainted with this friend for it is you but you lose touch with this precious fact through the stupefying barrage of trivia, cruelty, compounded, needless complications...presented to you daily, hourly...by the mundane dimension in which you live!

THE STUPID FINANCIAL SYSTEM: HOW TO OVERCOME IT

I have intentionally called the monetary system as it now exists on planet Earth “stupid”.

We think very little of the mundane dimension’s “god” called “Money”. We would never transmit to you that this “stuff” should be lusted after or worshipped!

In ancient times, the human race lived in simplicity. No money system had been developed. It is a totally man-made system which has become lord over man Instead of his “servant”.

No soul should be enslaved by the lack of this stuff. All spirits are free and should not have to worry about where to get this stuff “money” for the next meal.

Money has become the ultimate drug. A man needs a “fix” before he can eat or keep a roof over his family’s head. This is a physical dependence “drug” not just psychological. The whole reality/dimension is based on this stuff. No one can escape its effects unless he or she chooses to become an utter hermit on top of a remote mountain; however, then one’s fellow man cannot be helped. The ultimate “joke” is that this stuff is needed in order to help those who do not have it, who have not fallen prey to it.

If you respect, lust after, worship “money”, there is no use for you to read our advise and hints for self-help on overcoming it. If we are to help you, you must realize the financial/money system is a lower energy!

In your struggle to exist day to day, you lose track of the fact which you know very well: money is simply a type of green paper printed in a certain way. Technically there is gold which backs up this paper held by the government in a remote facility. However, by the government’s own admission, much of the money in the system has no gold to back it up.

In ancient times, the “story” of man’s dependence on this false paper stuff would have sounded like fiction. No secular religion ever dreamed up a more narrow, silly way of operating, of ritualizing...than the current monetary system of the world. Look at it in perspective, dear reader: the whole system is a false one, a giant trick from which there is no escape, it seems. It is a trap!

We emphasize that it is not your fault that you are trapped. You were born into the trap in your current lifetime. The tragedy of this trap is even though you see it in perspective and know the stupidity of the system, you still must “play the game”. Survival, unfortunately, depends on it, in the dimension in which you live (or so it seems!).

Since the money system is a lower energy, it must be treated as such. And so, I will now give you our “formula” for overcoming this lowly energy - or entity - which it is. You must think of it as a “lower entity” and deal with it from there.

You may feel that I have little place in advising how. to rule the money system (and not allow it to rule you as it is!). After all, have I not said that we eliminated a similar “silly system” Ages ago? This is correct, but from my perspective on the mountainside, it is obvious how entrapped humankind is by this system and it is also obvious how he can and must overcome it! Also, as those who read THE TRANSFORMATION know, we often spend weeks, months, years living on planet Earth as human. During these assignments, we must manipulate the monetary system of Earth. I can assure you that we have no money concerns while living on Earth; our directives do not allow us to manufacture money on our ships. In other words, we must make money on Earth as anyone else does. And so, we do have firsthand knowledge of becoming “master” of the lower entity which is the planet’s money system.

First, divorce yourself from its grip. Look at it in perspective for what it is. If you wish to visualize it as a lower entity, you will see a vicious, stupid, ugly man who enjoys his lordship over you and all around you. Do not dwell on this lower energy’s exact appearance for it is irrelevant and there is no use of getting caught up in detailed visualizing of “him” (in fact, do not do this!). Once you have generally recognized “money” as a lower entity, you have freed yourself from its grasp on your soul.

Yes, you still need it to survive and to have the comforts which you wish for your family. I will not dwell on this aspect, but it is entirely possible that you are wanting the things which money can buy...when, in fact, they will not make you happy. Of course one’s needs have to be taken care of, the rent must be paid, etc. However, do not lust after material possessions without perspective, intelligence, and a greater “lust” for the spiritual fulfillment which you are lacking! In other words, you may be feeding the lower entity called Money if you blindly want first one material possession and then another! You are then your own slave master, which is the worst of all conditions!

However, it is also the easiest condition out of which to obtain freedom!

And so, we perceive money as an energy which definitely exists on planet Earth which has great powers over the masses, but from whom you have extricated yourself. You see “him” for what he is and you refuse to be his slave. You will make “him” your slave! We stress that we would transmit this about no living being...but the Money System is not alive. It simply must be manipulated as a lower energy by you; and so, we transmit sentences which sound beneath our usual “lofty” level. We repeat: the drug Money on which the entire planet is “hooked” is something to be conquered and forgotten!

The money system Instills fear within the soul. This is a grave travesty of universal law (to instill fear in a terrible thing to do). If you study history, you will find that those who overcame this fear grew to be money’s masters (and not visa versa). However, in most cases, the great wealth jaded these humans and made them stupid, greedy, unfeeling...just as the money system itself. Leaving that sad fact aside (that absolute power corrupts absolutely!), you will find that various famous wealthy men played the money system without the usual fear and entrapment. Of course they took it “seriously” and so must you (in order to keep food on the table), but at this time erase your fear of the stuff!

Decide that you will cooperate with it, for now, in order to keep food on the table and in order to have more...but eliminate the fear of it, see it for what it is, tell “it” that you will play its game because you want to (for now), not because you must. You are no longer in this negative energy's grasp!

At first, your life will seem the same. However, you have set the wheels in motion. Now you may apply your purified energies (spoken of in previous chapters) and you may conclude breaking out of negative emotional cycles spoken of earlier also.

This does not mean you will pack up, leave your family, go sit on a mountaintop and deal exclusively in "energies and flows".

Instead, life will appear the same. You need not leave your partner to change the name of the "game". You need not put all your money on the commodity market in order to become its master. In fact, if you interpret my "secrets" in this way, you are in total misunderstanding!

In a few extreme cases, one may have to escape from a very negative personal relationship, for example. However, in most cases, life-as-it-is must go on for there are others to consider, much time put into relationships already, etc. It is not wise to throw all away without much contemplation.

However, what you must do is look at your life in a new perspective. For instance, the money system is a lower energy. And so, apply your powerful (and newly free) mind to sending its energies snowballing in your direction. Sending such "seductive" energies at a living person is wrong. However, the money system is "fair game" for it is not alive. If you work it correctly, directing energies to yourself, money will almost literally fall out of the trees for you! However, BEWARE!

The greatest pitfall of this is not learning how to do it. Once you receive the right combination in your mind (which you will if you read this manuscript carefully), money will flow toward you, not away from you. However, the greatest pitfall is the fact that you will not know when or how to stop manipulating it. This has been the fate of countless people who have played the system successfully, achieving great wealth. They then become its slave once again in a much worse way than when they were "poor".

You must have the spiritual maturity, goodness, wisdom...to stay superior to the Money Entity. Do not sink to its levels! Once you discover the combination of your energies which brings money your way, will you have the maturity and decency to bring only what you need?

Or will you continue to want every new, materialistic item on the market? Will you attempt to "buy and sell" other people? Will you feel that money can buy love? If this is the case, you are worse off than when you started, still afraid of the Money Entity and still its slave. In becoming corrupt, you will have become Money's minion. You are ultimately defeated in the greatest of losses.

And so, what we offer you is the key to using your mind/soul's energies to rid yourself of fear and dependence on a ridiculous, arbitrary system put into motion by a very shallow, materialistic dimension.

What we do not offer you is the "go ahead" to go wild with this new-found money manipulative ability. In fact, we hesitate to write this chapter...for fear of corrupting you once you find the energy key. However, we have decided that the enslavement and fear of the Money Entity is the worse of the two evils. We believe in you. We believe that you are a member of the human race who has evolved to the point where you will not fall into the old holes, the old evils.

First, purify your energy. Now surround yourself with the Light of Goodness. Then visualize the Money Energy rolling along in your direction, open yourself from the fear of the money system and acknowledge that you are the manipulating, alive energy while the money energy is a lower one which can roll/orbit in your direction. You will not harm another living being in rolling this money energy in your direction, in commanding it to be helpful to you.

This is a manipulation of energy flow which must be done often, each day, to keep the momentum, for money's powers are strong in your dimension and the fear/power over you will quickly set in again unless guarded against.

Do not be specific in "wishing for a new car" or whatever. Instead, apply your powerful and good mind to simply keeping the energies rolling in your direction. Unexpected monies will appear and so it is unwise to limit this by wishing for specifics. Also, it is much harder to create specifics than to, in general, roll the energy your way. This general "rolling" is 100% easier than specific items coming your way (and they will come your way as the general "rolling" effect continues).

NEVER lose sight of the fact that you are to use this wisely, only to free yourself of extreme woes, of extreme fear of lack of money... so as to pursue spiritual fulfillment. Only a "saint" could pursue spiritual fulfillment if the family was hungry. In fact, this would be wrong for the "saint" to do! There must be ease of mind before spiritual fulfillment can be concentrated upon. This is fully understandable!

CONCLUSION

Please take my hand. I have offered you our own self-help secrets, our perspective from the higher slopes of the mountainside. You must believe in yourself in order to take my hand. You must believe in Whole (Higher) Self in order to take my hand. You must believe in the God-force to take my hand!

You must know that mind/soul/consciousness is all you have...and it is more than sufficient! You must know that, to a great degree, the material items around you are illusion, and are certainly capable of being Influenced positively by your mind/soul/consciousness.

You must see in perspective the negative cycles in your life. Do not be a slave to compounding effects, to old stereotyped situations which you and those you love....fall into, time and time again.

If your personal situation is more negative than positive, you must remove yourself from it, either physically or emotionally. Break the negative cycle!

If your personal situation is worth continued involvement, then aim for the bond, which is greater than either partner. Allow it to energize you through the rough spots and refuse to participate in petty emotional syndromes.

Do not become swallowed in a sea of negatives. Be master, be positive!

Self-healing (' for physical, mental, spiritual illnesses) is always available for you,. Remember the Child in yourself. Know yourself well. Through self, reach Self...and then reach God. Do not expect miracles unless you (Whole Self) participate. Do not feel sorry for self but throw energies into positive orbit; do not compound the negatives through pity, vengeance, remorse, bitterness (this is easier said than done and much conscious control is needed. Do not be a slave to negative emotions!).

It is a shame that the money system exists; since It does, roll it in your direction (for it does possess much energy which can be influenced!) but do so only to help yourself toward spiritual freedom and wisdom. Always keep the Self and God involved in your manipulations of lower energies.

This Is our knowledge, our wisdom, our self-help...discovered through countless travels of starry seas and diverse dimensions. We have achieved a higher foothold on the mountainside and so can you! We are not unreachable, we are not "gods",. You can have the perspective, the energy manipulative ability, the higher spiritual qualities...which we do, for this is your destiny. As "big brothers" we offer you our hands. The first step is the hardest; gaining perspective on your life's situation is the hardest. Remove yourself from the thick of the battle and borrow our viewing screen to look at your life in more perspective. Then, take action in the way which we have suggested, in the path we have guided you onto, through God's universal love. This is Tibus, ending transmission.

1. Vernon Howard has said, "Anyone weary of stumbling in the dark has taken the first step toward walking in the light."

How can you apply this thought/energy to breaking a negative energy syndrome within your family or circle of friends? Considering this wisdom, would you participate in a familiar argument, with each partner assuming the usual roles (one being the offender and the other being the "hurt one")?

According to this quote, how can you begin to engineer a bright new reality for yourself?

2. The Gospel according to Thomas says, "Let him who seeks not cease seeking until he finds and when he finds, he will be troubled, and when he has been troubled, he will marvel..."

In what way is this in keeping with the ancient Cycle of Energy? Do you believe that Thomas would agree with the Higher Realms that the only true death is not death of the physical body but is, instead, stagnation of the mind/soul?

3. "The brain is just a piece of God," said Emily Dickinson .

In what way does this agree (or disagree) with the premise that, in order to achieve self-help, one must communicate first with one's self, then with one's Self (High, Whole Self), then with the God-force?

Does this quote tend to verify the premise that your own inner space is the path to outer space/higher planes exploration?

4. "Great spirits have always encountered violent opposition from mediocre minds," said Albert Einstein. In what way does this quote from Einstein work in with your responsibility to attain your fullest potential (not in a material way but in a spiritual way)?

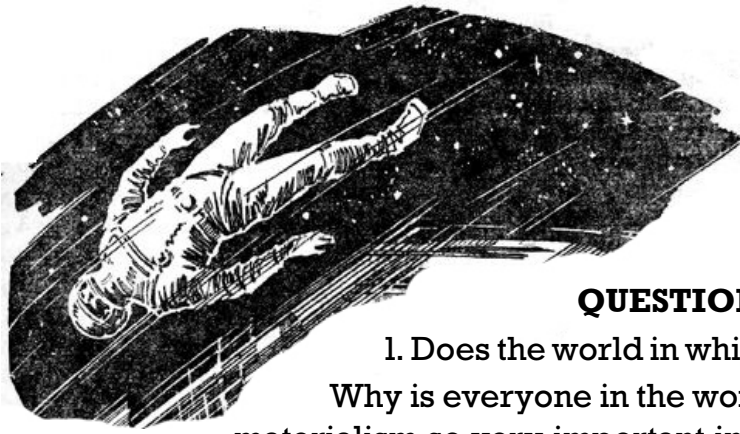

If you find a friend having trouble which you feel could be helped by the SUPER-BEINGS' SELF HELP MANUSCRIPT, would you first explain that the manuscript was channeled by one of a Higher Realm, offering his own self-help wisdom to humankind?

Or would you simply offer the self-help to this person feeling that, even in their time of trouble, they would criticize you for being "far out" in your reading material?

Neither answer is "right" or "wrong". However, you should remember that the main objective would be to help the troubled party, not to champion what you know to be true!

5. Joel Goldsmith says, "We hide the truth by worshipping the one who revealed The Word instead of this "I" abiding within each of us."

Allow the "I" to abide in you. Self-help is exactly that.

STARLIGHT MYSTIC AWARENESS
LESSON "HELPMATE" TO THE GOD CLOUD

QUESTIONS TO BE ASKED IN THIS LESSON

1. Does the world in which you live exist in the Mind of Man only?

Why is everyone in the world a victim of the money system? Why is materialism so very important in this world? How can you overcome being a victim of the money system? How can materialism be put into perspective and conquered in your personal life?

2. "Humankind may well be but a dream of God's sleeping mind." What is meant by this concept? Do humans create "dream people" in their sleep?

3. What part of the world around us is a part of God's Mind? Are we hopelessly surrounded by Man's creations alone?

4. "War begins in the minds of human beings. Since this is so, the minds of human beings must also be capable of ending war." What does this wise statement ultimately tell us about Man's Mind and its connection to God's Mind?

5. What is God Consciousness? Where is God Consciousness? Can it transcend the daily world?

In perceiving The Question and possible Answer to #1, we must use our gifts of prophecy and rise above the Earth timeline to a period when humankind first emerged on this beautiful blue/green planet. We can see that, in the beginning, there was no money system, no complex society, no materialism.

Now, of course, a race cannot stand still. It is a responsibility before God as a Cosmic Being to use intelligence, intuition, and abilities to evolve. Man certainly could not remain in the primitive stage! However, many, many paths could have been taken by the human race. The path it has chosen to travel is one which is crippled by a "money system", a materialism of staggering proportions.

It is Man's responsibility to see the hurt this system causes to so many of his race. It is Man's obligation to stand back and examine the society he has created and then strive to correct it in the places where it is negative and damaging. A few individuals do this (thus you are reading this Awareness Lesson). However, the human race as a whole only strives to reinforce its materialistic ways. One man "lords over" another simply because he has collected more money - often by negative methods. And so, often the decent individual becomes more of a victim of the money system than does the more greedy, aggressive individual. The entire system becomes inverted, off-center, and out-of-balance!

Those who are sensitive to Cosmic Energy are also sensitive to "bad vibes" of the negative money system with its accompanying materialism. These gentle people (like yourself, dear reader) become very frustrated and angry with the overall injustice of the system and you don't seem to "play the game" as well as other people who do not feel resentment toward it.

However, those who lose their humanity to the materialistic system are the ones hurt the most by it, though they may have amassed a sum of the “green stuff”. And so, all are hurt by this dominating, artificial system.

Many “good luck charms” are sold as a “magic” way of overcoming the money system. Sometimes these “charms” do have power, dear reader...but it is because of the power of your mind/soul! If you want “out” of the money system’s viciousness badly enough, you can make a “charm” work. However, the power comes from within you. You can overcome, whether you use meditative aids/tools or whether you do it entirely with the strength of your Whole Self.

A first step to “escaping” from the grasp of materialism and money problems is to do exactly what you are doing: Look at it in perspective! Become fully aware that this system is not God! It is an artificial system which humankind has imposed on itself!

All in the world which is artificial (man-made) does exist only in - the Mind of Man. For instance, if a man thinks up the concept of having a shoe store and then acts on his mind’s thought, he creates a shoe store within his society. The minds of other men perceive this shoe store, make it a thriving business by going to it, and it continues to exist in the mundane world.

Materialism is important because Man makes it important. Man is a victim of his own artificial system. While no one with a physical human body can escape the materialistic system completely unless he or she goes to live on the tiptop of Mt. Everest... a person can become less of a slave to money by not allowing money to dominate life. One should resist worrying about it constantly or obsessively. If you do refuse to be its slave, you will find that your mind can begin to overcome the system. In other words, a first step to solving money worries is to refuse to participate in the stress and game-playing which the materialistic system forces on one. "

It takes a bit of mind-power, but you (to have a powerful enough mind/soul to overcome this man-made “god”!

In perceiving the Question and possible Answer to # 2 and 3, we first must realize that the world around us is full of objects and forces which are not creations of Man’s mind but creations of God’s Mind.

You have simply to look at Nature to realize that God’s Mind has created a very mystical and beautiful world all around you.

Look out your window: You see Man’s Mind at work - and you see God’s Mind at work. These two compose Reality.

Now, we know that God’s Consciousness is in each and every lifeform as well as everywhere in The Universe. And so, when we look at art or listen to music, we are enjoying a man-made reality but one which is based on the God Consciousness within each man (or woman). This of course is true of many wonderful things in life, right down to a birthday cake which is man-made but which expresses love, which is a universal joy and a part of God Consciousness. We must always remember not to credit a distant God who “sits on a gold throne” but rather to know that God is within each and every piece of life, everywhere...including ourselves.

Now, here is the key, dear reader: the universal God Consciousness within you is the part which can save you from being a victim of the artificial world around you which seems to worship money and materialism.

If we but truly look, if we but truly see, we will know that we are not surrounded by Man's creations alone. Our world is what we perceive it to be. If we feel buried by the materialistic world, then we are buried by it. If we feel a part of The Universe, if we let our spiritual self run free, then we can rise above the materialistic world. We can put the often ridiculous materialistic world "in its place"!!

At this point, we will ask the question, "Does God dream?" Does the Universal Creator dream? Does the Life force create thought-forms just as you do in your dreams...the dreams you have which seem very, very real? These dreams of yours have details in them, they are complex and meaningful.

We may consider the fact that, since all life has a spark of the God Force within it, perhaps it is that same spark which is a part of The Creator's dream. It is that spark which is us, which is our eternal spirit. We are detailed, complex and meaningful and we are a part of God's Mind (God's Consciousness).

A skeptic might say, "Perhaps God is a dream of Man." To this we ask you to consider the truth that the two minds/souls (that of God and that of Man) are so intertwined, so linked...that this statement may well also be true. How can anyone separate humankind from the universe? How can anyone state that Cosmic Energy is a one-way street?

What an individual on Earth must do is to align himself or herself more with Universal Energy than with the materialistic world. What the individual on Earth must do is to call on the God Consciousness within himself or herself more than with the force of the money system, which should be viewed as a "demon" of sorts.

We do not transmit that the money system can be totally, forgotten about, while you are evicted from your house! However, if you place the thrust of your being into the God-created part of the world around you (we have explained where this is!), then you stop putting unnecessary energy into the Man-made part of Reality!

As a student of metaphysics, you know that the more energy you put into an endeavor, the more active it becomes. There are many misconceptions about metaphysics; one is that the power of the occult mind can cause bad luck or a "hex" to be put on another person. The mundane world does not seem to realize the positive side of this axiom: to concentrate one's mind powers on helping another person can be most helpful to that person! At any rate, we know that the more mind-energy put into a subject, the more powerful that subject becomes! Now, think of the mind-power you have put into the money system (the money "demon"). People give it more and more power all the time. Refuse to do this, except where absolutely necessary!

Yes, you are surrounded by Man's creations and you are flooded by the worries the money system heaps on you. However, you are also surrounded by God's creations...the most precious of which is within you! This is where you should put the energy of your mind/soul! It will free you from the other system, the other reality. It can even help those mundane problems ease up and be overcome. Stop giving your mundane problems more strength over you! Often they have you wrapped around their “little fingers”.

In Lesson #10, we transmitted information about the gift of prophecy within you, dear reader. It is this gift more than any other which can help you find the God Consciousness part of your mind/soul, the part which can help you overcome the materialistic system. You must gain perspective! You must gain perspective on who you are, as a Cosmic Citizen. You must gain perspective on your world - where it has been, where it is now, where it is going. Rise above the mundane flow and see the full, universal picture as we discussed before!

“War begins in the minds of human beings. Since this is so, the minds of human beings must also be capable of ending war.”

We of the Higher Realms...those slightly above you on the Awareness Ladder...can guide you as we are attempting to now...as much as we possibly can, as much as human-kind will possibly listen to us. However, the key is contained in the above quote! YOUR mind and soul as a being who is in human physical form at this time...can create a brighter Reality.

Money also exists in the minds of human beings. Pieces of paper which have a “value” have made a lot of misery across the face of planet Earth. The more value you put on these pieces of paper, the more they have you in their grip. Find your Universal Spirit before it withers under the power of the materialistic world.

It is very important to explore the many aspects of yourself which compose your Whole Self. This includes “past lives” (parallel aspects), your gifts of precognition, intuition, prophecy. This includes exploring the other Cosmic Beings who are there for you at any times, such as “guardian angels” and “star guides”. There is so much to the individual you call you, dear reader! These various aspects, experiences, gifts...are all a part of the God Spark within you. Sadly, they often go neglected because the Man-made part of your Reality dominates.

Never forget that blessed Nature is always there for you, as a magnificent manifestation of God’s mind and soul! You are also a part of that same magnificent Nature!

The power of God, the Creator is your power also! God Consciousness is inside as well as outside!

This transmission is ended.

Upon completion of Lesson 12, you will receive a Keeper of the Cosmic M Consciousness Degree (Certificate) and we will move on to a new level (Level 2) which also has 12 lessons. Upon completion of that level, another degree is issued.

STARLIGHT MYSTIC AWARENESS LESSON

QUESTIONS TO BE ASKED IN THIS LESSON

1. What have the Higher Realms (space beings, angelic intelligences) discovered about life after death which 20th Century Man is not yet quite sure of?

2. Which religion - which belief - is right in regard to Heaven, Nirvana, Hell, Purgatory, Reincarnation, etc. Which group has the right answer? On a personal level, which one of these “places” are you headed for? Can you change this destiny?

3. What about those who feel that we can “beam up” to starships (UFOs) after death on the physical plane. Can this be true? What about the UFO occupants, then? Are they all Earth spirits? Are none of them true aliens? Is this “starship belief” opposed to what religions have always taught? Is there a way to truly understand the complexity of the UFO and Life-After-Death experiences, especially as they are linked together? Most importantly, how can you engineer your own After-Life into a real and beautiful dimension? How can you personally reach this dimension?

4. Where does God (the God-force) fit into all of this? Has your destiny already been decided or can you personally work with the God-force and achieve higher realms when you leave the earthly realm?

In perceiving The Question and the possible Answer to Question 1, we must turn once again both to advanced science and to enlightened spiritual/universal truths.

In the 20th Century, humankind’s scientists are beginning to discover that the true essence of each individual (the soul) is not capable of being found in the physical grey matter of the brain nor in any of the physical organs of the body. Science is beginning to explore the nature of consciousness as a kind of life force which is energy-based and which is inherent in the very nature of the perception of reality.

There have been several excellent books linking ancient mysticism with the latest discoveries in quantum physics. The Nature of Consciousness is explored in both fields with remarkable similarities. In other words, 20th Century science is on the brink of proving God (the Creator/the Universal Consciousness) scientifically. They are on the edge of producing schematics of mind/consciousness/soul which simply confirm what ancient wisdom has serenely told the human race for so long.

And so, in asking what space beings (many of whom are from our own future) and angelic intelligences have discovered from their elevated view on the awareness mountainside, we must first remember that they have access to scientific knowledge which is only being guessed at now. This scientific knowledge (about the nature of consciousness, eternal life, and other dimensions) fortifies and reinforces their spiritual/universal knowledge which also states the same premise: the soul lives on!

The unique spark of universal consciousness which is you, with all your experiences and traits is an essence which is merely transformed at the demise of your current physical vessel. You may or may not remember experiences from pre-lives (lives before the current life in which your unique essence finds itself) but they are nonetheless there with you, influencing you. There are traits which are unique to your individual spark of consciousness; these are soul traits, inherent in the nature of your very being. They remain unique throughout all time, all dimensions, all lifetimes.

The unique essence which separates you from all other sparks of universal consciousness learns and grows throughout The Ages. It is energy-based and as such can be altered (changed) but never destroyed. The experiences you encounter change you...but they never destroy you....not even “death” does this.

In the future, humankind will know this truth, both scientifically and spiritually. The higher realms know this truth now. Now is Eternal!

In perceiving The Question and possible Answer to Question #2, we must first perceive that Earth is one globe, one people.

As such, Earth's people have long searched for the answer to where they go after death. Many prophets and thinkers have come up with answers; all of these answers hold merit and truth. However, man has not yet learned not to impose dogma and inflexible thinking/feelings where religion is concerned. Man tends to impose rules from the daily reality upon his spiritual pursuits. This is a grave mistake for rules limit thinking, growth, and universal awareness. Rules put a blockade along the soul's star path, temporally stopping its progress. And nothing is more damaging to the energy-based soul than stagnation. No progress is made when learning stops; when an intelligence feels that it knows all there is to know...when it feels it has the one and only answer... spiritual evolution ceases!

Throughout its many learning experiences - and periods of stagnation - the unique essence which is you has continued to create its reality. Nothing is more exciting than a universal learning experience (often these take the form of miracles, visions, revelations). You link up with these experiences simply by searching. Your unique consciousness is, in a very real way, flying along on a cosmic trip through the stars, the universe. It lives many lifetimes as it travels. Every time it reaches out to link with the rest of the universe...the remainder of universal consciousness....it learns, grows, revels in the nature of its being. And it also perceives more truth about itself!

In the periods of stagnation along your cosmic path (and all souls have had them!) you "rest easy" in believing an absolute truth which indeed is not absolute for many, many other souls are finding equally valid truths which would seem to contradict your "absolute truth". For instance, if you believe that only Christians go to Heaven - and if you have a very firm vision of exactly what heaven is like - then the person who firmly believes in reincarnation is either absolutely wrong or he has found/engineered an experience which you are denying yourself in your rigid beliefs.

The universal truth to this confusion is, each unique essence can and does engineer its own reality as it travels on to another dimension after death.

Your consciousness not only perceives your reality but it participates in its creation. Again, quantum mechanics (physics) is beginning to tell humanity this; ancient wisdom has long held this truth.

The human race is making its own future, as one people, even as you read this transmission. You as an individual are also making your own future - in this life and in lives to follow - as you read this!

You are limited only by the lack of your essence's willingness to reach far! You are a spark of universal consciousness; without you, The Whole is not whole. You are vital, you are unique. And you have the power within your soul to reach for the stars! You have the ability within your being to know that God is more than a personified human, sitting in Heaven somewhere, taking your name down on a list. This concept of God and Heaven are not wrong - no! However, your consciousness may encompass them on a much more magnificent and universal scale than to impose mundane reference points (personified man, heavenly streets, lists, etc.) upon the awesome All That Is! The reality of the Afterlife is as universal, as exciting, as high on the awareness ladder.. as you can possibly perceive. Your mind/soul will take you to this place/ experience you have perceived upon your death in this world. And LIFE will start anew for you (for indeed, LIFE can never leave you!).

Of course you can change your destiny! Your mind/soul has power over your fate as a universal spark of consciousness. You have only to truly believe this truth! Seek and ye shall find. I stand at the door and knock.

In perceiving The Question and possible Answer #3, we must first understand the significance of the information in the preceding Questions.

It is indeed a noble and challenging life to travel the universe, either in a ship which will protect you or on your own as an energy upon the solar winds. Traveling as a speck of consciousness on solar winds...is a difficult reality to perceive for most who now live on the Earth plane. In a sense, it is a very advanced level...to be pure energy, pure consciousness... It is much more realistic to perceive of great starships which travel from world to world, experiencing and perceiving all forms of universal truth and the lifeforms which champion them. This "starship" (UFO) reality is one which is reachable from Earth (in other words, you are not attempting to skip over ten steps on the awareness ladder to achieve this future reality as you would be to simply become a speck of pure consciousness upon the solar winds!). Starships may also be termed "dimensionships" for to perceive oneself as traveling dimensions is also a reachable goal. To wish to participate in contact with other dimensions is indeed a worthy goal for a consciousness such as yourself, who seeks out other lifeforms, who is flexible, who believes that in the diversity of other worlds and other lives... there is inherent beauty and truth.

UFO occupants are a varied lot indeed! All, however, are souls who have sought to further explore their universe (for their universe is also your universe). Some of these beings do indeed come from far distant planets circling far distant stars. Others are humans who, having left the earth plane, have found a new, beautiful, and exciting lifetime exploring the universe, with its wisdom which they pursued in their earth life.

An important concept for you to consider - and which space and higher intelligences have discovered - is that a spark of consciousness (a soul) believes itself to be "solid" and "material" in each dimension in which it finds itself. In other words, you are solid and real in your current lifetime because, in order to discern "up" from "down", your consciousness has perceived a solid and real physical body for you. In this way, you move through the dimension in which you find yourself now, interacting with it, participating in it and changing it.

Therefore, the intelligences which inhabit starships and dimensionships are also real, physical beings. To achieve a state of pure consciousness/pure energy with no physical body reference point is, as we have said, a very high state of consciousness indeed. Many of those in the higher realms have not achieved this, nor has any being which permanently or temporarily manifests a physical body for itself. To achieve pure energy being is to, for all intents and purposes, to achieve "Godhead"....to achieve oblivion (if we look at it in a slightly different context). We do not stress achieving this - though we do respect and admire it. However, to change a world for the better, to make an impact, to be of goodness and to practice this goodness...means that it is beneficial to yourself and those around you for you to have a physical body. To hi a physical body is not a step “down” the awareness ladder for nearly all higher intelligences do manifest a physical body for themselves within the dimension they work in at the moment.

Many people get “lost” when studying metaphysics because all truths seem to be pointing to achieving a state of “nothingness”. We stress that quite the opposite it true: in your next life, wherever you may engineer it to be, you will be just as “real and physical” as in this life. You will be of goodness and you will affect change and spiritual enrichment on the environment you perceive around you.

UFOs have been called physical, “nuts and bolts” craft. They have also been called “spiritual entities” which are not solid in this world. Both are true. There is no contradiction.

All have access to traveling the stars and the universe in their next lifetime. The people who spot UFOs now are the people (the essences) who will be the UFO occupants of the future, if they so choose.

In perceiving The Question and possible Answer to #5, we have merely to transmit that the God-force has been present throughout all concepts expressed in this lesson. Each individual essence (soul) is a fragment of the greater God, though each soul is also a complete and unique entity unto itself.

You may work more effectively with God if you first simply realize that your ( consciousness is a part of the God Consciousness...and visa versa. God is within your own innerspace...and God Consciousness abounds throughout the outerspace of the universe as well. There is no separation of the two spaces”! They are made of the same universal spark.

In perceiving The Question and possible Answer to #1 in this third Starlight Mystic Awareness Lesson, we point out that nearly all religions and spiritual paths since humankind’s first appearance on planet Earth do indeed teach that beings have come “from the stars”, “from the heavens”, from “higher worlds”.. .and worked with the human race, attempting to teach a pathway of peace, light, and love.

Many books have been written on the ancient astronaut subject which state that these beings came directly from space, hailing from other planets circling far-distant stars.

Other books tell us - as per the Eastern spiritual traditions - that the human race’s contact comes through “ascended masters” and “guardians” which, simply put, are therefore multidimensional personalities (higher beings from other dimensions).

Still other religious traditions (such as Christianity) tell us that The Son of God was sent to the human race directly from “heaven” (which is Indeed another world of more evolved status than the current Earth level).

There have been many prophets.. .many great souls.. .who have attempted to guide the human race by telling us all what we are doing and where we are going. These special mind/souls have the ability to step outside the flow of history (our timeline) and see the dangers ahead if_ we don’t correct our pathway. Nostradamus was one such prophet and of course religions have sprung up around such inspired prophets as Jesus, Buddha, Mohammed, and others. Indeed, these mind/souls were and are

"the sons of God" because of the beautiful gift of coming into pure contact with the God-force and the Infinite Life and Wisdom therein.

Humankind becomes occupied with the "stories" of these beings: where were they born, who conceived them, who birthed them, how many years did they live, where did they travel...even what did they say. Of course this is important in the full understanding of these prophets as individual humans on Earth, but it is not the most important area of their message! The intuitive spirit, the quest for universal truth and wisdom...is the primary message for you as an individual also living on Earth. These prophets showed all beings that the God-force can be contacted within every lifeform and allowed to flourish!

And so, although the contact with other dimensions and other worlds has been related by humankind to humankind...as being with "ancient astronauts", "ascended masters", and "Sons of God", the overall answer is a distinct "Yes, this contact has been ongoing since the Dawn of Man!"

Some of the contact has indeed been with space-going astronauts, some has been with dimensional travelers who contact The Mind with no need of a starship, and other contact has of course broken very directly from God as this incredible force contacts humanity through a prophet, a Son of God.

All of these type* of contact are of equal worth...for all nudge humankind toward a higher consciousness. It is up to each individual to decide the type of contact he or she is receiving and to "go with it"!

In perceiving The Question and possible Answer to the second half of #1, one must realize that these higher beings of which we speak...have different life-spans than humans at this point in time. This is partially due to advanced medical technology which will indeed belong to humans in the future. It is also partially due to the fact that other levels of consciousness have sufficiently understood and overcome the concept of "death", so as to render this phenomenon virtually nonexistent. The physical body "dies", but if the mind/soul is understood, controlled, and guided well enough and strong enough by that same mind/soul, it need not lose itself each time the physical body "dies". Instead, it gains the ability to "remember itself" (just as humans are striving to do in past life analysis); there is a point on the consciousness ladder in which this remembering can be done consciously. The Whole Self can "come together" for each of the many aspects of that Whole Self (in other words, past lives can be remembered by the mind/soul living in a current physical vessel; therefore, "death" never really happens but Life goes on in continuance, aspect after aspect....Life after Life. Also, there are so-called alien races who do naturally live, for example, nine hundred Earth years (much as Biblical accounts).

However, though some of those higher beings who still work with the human race have worked with it for hundreds and even thousands of years, all things change. In some cases, specific mind/souls who worked with humanity in the past go on to new horizons and challenges. In other cases, "death" takes these higher beings to incredible new levels of being and contact with Earth becomes difficult. Also, the higher realms have changed their approach to contact with the human race: in the "ancient astronaut" days, contact was direct. The same may be said of Biblical contacts. However, as the human race progresses, contact has become more subtle. The human race has more been "put on its own", to learn much-needed lessons internally, of peace, love, and brotherhood. The bottom line is, those higher beings who contact Earth have also evolved...realizing that there were "mistakes" in the past which involved humankind's misinterpretation of the contact being made, the information being given. It was realized that the child learns more from experience than from "lectures".

However, the answer is "Yes" to the general question of the sources of contact being the same as in ancient astronaut days and Biblical days. These higher beings have Indeed been with the human race since The Beginning! .

Lastly, in response to #2, the human race is not a "mere infant" in its cosmic wisdom and behavior.

If we must give it an "age", we would designate it as an adolescent who has untold, incredible potential but who has still not learned that self-destruction, greed, and ambition are to be controlled, molded, turned to the total positive. It is stressed above all that the Human Potential is awesome indeed. We stress that one day soon, it will be The Human who reaches out his/her hand to the being slightly lower on the slope; so it is even as we speak, beloved!

In responding to Question 3, we offer the following meditation which can "offer up" a message to those higher on the slope, telling them that you are indeed ready, are indeed reaching out...for higher contact and guidance:

I surround myself with Love and Light. I am a being of good intent who is seeking.

I wish to make contact and to receive guidance from the minds and souls who are ahead of me on the Life Mountain. I am open to these beings of Goodness and of God who are waiting for me to ask...for contact and guidance.

I ask you, my fellow universal brothers and sisters, to contact me and guide me. I ask you to use your good judgment and your intuitive gifts in deciding which of you will work with me and help me.

In doing so, I understand that all Life is sacred and equal. If angelic beings wish to be my "big brothers", so be it. If dimensional travelers wish be my "big sisters", so be it. If my particular life path is guided toward contact with beings from other planets who travel in starships, then so be it. I am open and awaiting your contact, knowing the good intent and love of God in my heart and soul, and knowing the same miracles lie within all of you.

I understand that this contact and help will be subtle, will be in a way which will allow my daily life and responsibilities to continue. I understand that it will not scare me...but only enlighten me, thrill me spiritually, and set me along a more definitive star path, a more universal course.

I understand that you will give me small evidences of this contact as well as the loving contact and wisdom I will began feeling from within... which is indeed your mind wave transmissions from without, as well. I will enjoy the curiosity and adventure of it all, never being distracted from my good intent.
